An Integrated Master Plan Is Badly Needed Now!

AN EDITORIAL

TO: THE BOARD of Supervisors and the Contra Costa County Planning Commission.

RE: COMPLETION of the master plan for the Orinda area.

FROM: The people of Lafayette and Orinda.

Gentlemen: We wish to request that the master plan for the Orinda area be completed immediately. We realize that work is "progressing" on this matter, and that you have distributed questionnaires seeking information from residents of the area.

But we feel that this matter should be given priority. It should have been completed three years ago. Our present supervisor, who has been in office for two years, should expedite this matter.

This matter is of the utmost importance to Orinda residents, but it also affects the residents of Lafayette and Moraga.

AND SPEAKING OF Moraga, the Moraga master plan should be started now and completed immediately. This would help solve some very vexing problems, such as the shopping center hassle in the Burton area. This thorny example is a perfect example of the lack of long-range planning.

Lafayette has a master plan. But the surrounding areas, which do not, have a great effect on the area. It seems inconsistent to plan one area thoroughly and then to ignore the surrounding areas.

Look at the problem with Pine Grove in Orinda. It crops up again and again, and there is little need for it. Possibly this could be averted with a final master plan for the Orinda area.

Moraga and Orinda plans have both been started, but evidently they have been dropped. Certainly no progress has been apparent.

SO GENTLEMEN, as residents who live in the area, can't our wishes be respected. We would like a comprehensive master plan for our communities.

We feel that it is important. We feel that the longer the matter is delayed, the less integrated plan will be possible, because our communities are growing larger by leaps and bounds.

We think the time is now for a master plan for Orinda and for Moraga.

How about it?

9 Persons Suffer Injuries In 6 County Car Crashes

Nine persons were injured in six car crashes between Saturday morning and Tuesday night, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Although many took advantage of Tuesday's holiday for extended weekends, the patrol noted, few were injured in highway crashes.

SUNDAY, Bob Armstrong of 3310 Beachwood Drive, Lafayette, escaped serious injury, according to a patrol report, when he was struck by an auto driven by Nancy Hauskens of Lafayette.

He told investigating officers that he was crossing Beachwood Drive a quarter of a mile east of Reliez Station Road and jumped into a ditch to avoid the car.

Although, the patrol report noted he received a bump on the arm, he said he was not injured and went to his own doctor.

MISS HAUSKENS said that she had been blinded by the sun and was forced to pull over by an approaching car, the report indicated.

No citation was issued, the report concluded.

In other mishaps, a two-car rear-end collision in Walnut Creek sent one more person to Kaiser Hospital, according to the CHP.

THE ACCIDENT happened on Mt. Diablo Boulevard and treated was Mrs. Pearl A. Cavitt of Modesto, a passenger in an auto driven by Robert L. Bell of Hayward.

The other car was driven by Betty J. Beaudret of 3328 Mildred Lane, Lafayette.

Bell was cited for unsafe speed for road conditions, according to the CHP report.

Walter E. Asher, 19, and his wife, Bonnie Mae, 17, 1411 South Danville Road, were given emergency treatment and released by the county hospital following a collision Saturday night.

ASHER, ATTACHED to an army base in Crow Canyon, was eastbound on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, at the intersection of Boulevard Way, and failed to see a vehicle driven by Harlan W. Trott of 582 Lakewood Road, Walnut Creek, the highway report stated.

Trott's car was stopped at a signal light. Asher's car banged into the rear of the other car hurling it a considerable distance, the report continued.

Asher was cited for unsafe speed and faulty brakes, the report concluded.

JOHN TROEGER and Frank Craston, almost next door neighbors in Martinez, smashed into one another at the crossing of Pleasant Hill Bypass and Grayson Road Tuesday.

Injured was Marion Craston and Craston, according to the CHP.

MODERATE DAMAGE was suffered by both cars, the report concluded.

Also on Tuesday on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, 1250 feet west of Charles Hill Road, Lionel Poller of Berkeley was taken to the county hospital in Martinez in serious condition by ambulance, Highway Patrol Officers Farrell Buckingham and George Bergstrom reported.

Officers cited Pooler for excessive speed for prevailing conditions, they said.

Pooler had been driving west on Mt. Diablo Boulevard and failed to negotiate a detour placed during the expansion of Mt. Diablo Boulevard between the El Nido and the Broadway low level tunnel, Buckingham stated.

Minority Opposes Park Pool Plans, President Says

Only a "small group" opposes plans to build a new entrance to the parking lot, and to enlarge the lawn area adjacent to Orinda Park Pool, Jack Saunders, president of its board of directors, said yesterday.

Cost of the project is estimated at about $3500.

He said he was disappointed that only 59 out of the association's 400 members turned out at a meeting November 6 to hear the project discussed.

A straw vote taken at that meeting was 37 opposed, 22 in favor.

A STATEMENT Saunders prepared for The Sun follows:

"Since the purchase of the pool and properties, the board of directors have deliberated for some time on a program of improvements for the pool and surrounding area, the first of which was paving the parking lot, planting of shrubs and trees, accomplished prior to the opening of the pool this year.

"ADDITIONALLY, legal complications make it necessary to have a new entrance to the parking lot, and at the same time the board gave considerable thought to a plan for improving and enlarging the lawn area adjacent to the pool, which if done along with the new entrance, will result in a considerable saving.

"It is unfortunate that a small group is in disagreement with the plan. However, the board voted 9 to 2 in favor, and it is hoped that this plan, along with whatever plans may develop for improvements in future years, will receive acceptance from the majority of members.

"Our financial status is sound, and ample funds have been set aside in the budget to take care of improvements from year to year.

"WITH SOME of the suggestions we have received from members, there seems to be a realization that improvements are evident by which we can all benefit."

There is no opposition to plans for a new entrance to the parking lot, Saunders said, and those who don't want the landscaping done simply "want the grounds to stay the way they are."

A sketch for plans for the project will be posted in the Scout House, Saunders commented, so that all members can have a chance to get acquainted with them.

"We'd like to act as the majority wishes," Saunders added, "and it's possible we'll call for another vote if we feel that a real majority of the 400 members is against it, but I'm sure they won't be if they're acquainted with the plans."

Orinda Park Pool was incorporated in 1937, and membership was on the basis of annual membership fees. The property was leased from the deLaveagas.

The first of this year an option to buy was exercised, and the property purchased for about $50,000, with 400 proprietary members buying stock at $125 each.

Got Your Tax Bill Figured Out? It's A Whopper

Well, now that you've received your county tax bill, how do you feel?

Unfortunately, you can do nothing at the moment, but pay it. It might soften the blow a bit if you consider where your tax dollars went.

Right off the bat you, and everybody else, paid the basic county tax rate of $2.29 per $100 assessed valuation. From there on, things may vary, depending on which districts serve you, and in which area you live. The highest tax rate in Orinda is $9,638, while the lowest is $7.777.

YOUR SCHOOL taxes took the biggest bite of your tax dollar. You contributed $2.548 to elementary school taxes and $2.221 to the Acalanes High School District.

This, and your basic county tax, accounts for over half of your tax bill. The remainder is apportioned to such service groups as the East Bay Municipal Utility District, which gets 20 cents, the junior college district, which takes another $.346 and flood control which varies from 20 cents if you are in the flood control district, to 2 cents for mosquito abatement.

Those who are served by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District pay another $.706. The remainder of your tax bill is made up of small contributions to Bay Area Air Pollution, transit and handicapped children services.

THERE IS ONE other major item. The fire district tax you pay, depending on who serves you, varies from $1.053 to 90 cents to 70 cents.

Thus your tax bill will vary, depending on how many special districts serve you. Only one thing is sure. It is a whopper!

Taxes High, But Location Makes A Difference!

There's no getting around it, everybody's taxes are high, but some unfortunate people have higher tax bills than others, depending on where they live in the country.

For instance, in Central Contra Costa County, your taxes could range from $7.61 to $10.785 per $100 assessed valuation, depending on which of our communities you happen to call home.

The fortunate residents of Alamo with the tax rate of $7.61 are the lowest-billed people in our area. High tax honors go to the section of Pleasant Hill that is billed at the whopping $10.924.

Here are high and low tax rates for each of our communities:

Alamo: $8.567-$7.61.
Walnut Creek: $10.785-$8.545.
Pleasant Hill: $10.924-$8.464.
Lafayette: $9.927-$8.971.
Moraga: $9.280-$7.899.
Orinda: $9.638-$7.777.

Dedication of Library Will Be Held Tonight

By ODIE MONAHAN

A long-time dream of a few dedicated community-minded people will come true tonight when Dr. James D. Hart, vice-chancellor of the University of California, steps up to the rostrum to deliver the main address of the dedication ceremony at 8 p.m.

Just over four years ago the dream began.

At that time, and up to now, the Orinda library has been housed in a 400 square foot basement room, loaned through the kindness of the Community Church.

Bad lighting, poor ventilation, with reading room for only a table and four chairs, members at times were forced to stand in puddles of water which leaked through the walls during the rainy season.

THE COUNTY LIBRARY department had no money available for adequate quarters, as the maximum tax for county library operation was, and still is, one mill on the dollar of assessed valuation.

IN 1954 results from a survey conducted by the Orinda Association proved that over half the population wanted an adequate library. Civic groups became interested and between the Orinda Lions Club and the Junior Woman's Club, a non-profit organization was formed and incorporated as The Orinda Library Board, Inc.

The dream began taking shape when in 1956, through the efforts of the library board, a library building fund committee was formed. Purpose of the committee was to secure funds through voluntary subscriptions to defray the costs for construction of a modern, fully-equipped building.

PERC S. BROWN, Orinda resident and vice president of the Nopco Chemical Co., was appointed general chairman of the project. Under his leadership, a plan to meet the need and solve the problem was developed, a volunteer organization was formed and a community-wide fund raising project was set under way in the spring.

The fund raising campaign was successful. However, when finished, it was found that due to the increasing population and consideration for future planning, more library space was needed . . . and more money.

With determination and persistence, Brown and his committee drove through to the final goal and early this year ground was broken for the long-awaited new building.

And tonight a dream becomes a reality.

The doors of the new Orinda Library will be opened tonight at the dedication ceremony so that the residents may inspect the facilities that their time and money made possible.

This is the American way of making dreams come true.

Sun Check to Buy Play Equipment

An $81.75 check presented to the Orinda Union School District by The Sun will be used to help purchase athletic equipment, according to Joseph Sheaff, superintendent.

The amount was raised by means of a circulation drive recently put on by The Sun.

"In acceptincg this money, Mr. Gray, president of the board, requested that I extend to you on their behalf and also on behalf of the boys and girls, our sincere appreciation for this very generous gift," Sheaff said in a letter to The Sun.

Ceremonies to Climax Library Building Drive

Orinda's new $115,000 library will be dedicated at 8 p.m. today.

Built of redwood and concrete, the library was made possible by the contributions of many individuals and organizations.

It contains 4,800 feet of floor space and room for 15,000 books.

The Orinda Garden Club is landscaping the library and providing for a parking lot.

Dedication speaker will be Dr. James D. Hart, vice chancellor of the University of California.

Joseph Duffel, president of the Rotary Club, will present a world globe donated by the club to Perc S. Brown, Library Board president.

The presentation of a California state flag will be made by Mrs. Virginia Stanford, president of Cerrito De Oro Chapter, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Professor Eugene Neuhaus will present the library with paintings.

The presentation of the award, given only to "adult naturalized citizens who become outstanding American patriots," will be presented by Mrs. Loretta G. Thomas, Houston, Texas, national DAR Americanism chairman, at a dessert luncheon of members and guests of the John Rutledge Chapter.

Among honored guests will be the Mesdames Mardikian; Braly, state Americanism vice chairman; Bruce Canaga, national chaplain general: William Penn Mott Jr., chapter regent; Walter Marion Flood, Auburn, state DAR vice regent, and other officers of the state society.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Braly will be the Mesdames Theodore Snyder, Irene Lee and Mott.

Support Orinda Assoc.; Turn Down Apartments

The County Planning Commission Wednesday night turned thumbs down on a proposed $6,000,000 plush apartment building for the Pine Grove tract.

Commissioners recommended that Associated Investment Company's request for a zoning change from Administrative Offices to Multiple Residential be rejected.

In disapproving the application, commissioners followed the recommendation of the Orinda Association, which based its chief argument against rezoning on the fact that a general plan for Orinda is now under study by the commission, and that no zoning changes should be made until that plan is completed.

THE INVESTMENT company was represented by Maynard Corlett, who presented plans for a 1500 square foot building with 200 units and rentals at $300 to $500 a month.

"If the area were to be rezoned, this is the type of development that might interest Orinda people," commissioners were informed by Don Anderson, association director and member of its planning committee.

"But I doubt that Orinda residents would want the density of population that would be brought in by 200 units on 10 acres."

Following the hearing, Anderson commented that apartment plans had never been shown to association directors or to members of the planning committee.

"I HAD NO idea of what kind of building the firm had in mind until Corlett presented them at the hearing," Anderson said.

Previously scheduled for October 28, the hearing was postponed when the investment company failed to have a representative present.

At that time the association presented a letter which declared:

"The present zoning of the Pine Grove, A-O, and the attitude of the community toward the rezoning for multiple family use were well known to the present owner at the time he acquired the land.

"THERE IS NO public interest to be served by rezoning at the present time. There has been no indication of support in the community for the applicant's present proposal, and to our knowledge this proposal was not discussed with anyone in the community prior to the time the rezoning application was filed."

The land was rezoned when it was owned by Pacific Intermountain Express, which planned to build a $75,000 office building on the tract.

The project was bitterly fought by the association, and PIE finally abandoned plans to build.

Sheriff's Force, Highway Patrol Guarding Signs

Sheriff's deputies and highway patrol officers have been alerted by the county public works department to apprehend all persons found tampering with road signs and highway markers, according to Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer.

"An alarming number of cases of vandalism to road signs and county markers has been reported by residents," Kermit noted.

STRICTER ENFORCEMENT of the law is urged of sheriff's deputies and highway patrol officers, Kermit continued.

Kermit commented that the Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Rheem area had been plagued by vandals cutting down signs, shooting them full of holes and in other ways defacing them.

Kermit noted that in the Lafayette area, one sign had been painted over green and would have to be replaced.

The total of damages thus far to signs in the last two months has been set at $250 by the county official.

IN OTHER TRAFFIC safety matters, Kermit pointed out that additional precaution had been taken by the county at the junction of Pleasant Hill Bypass and Pleasant Hill Road.

Since the opening of the bypass one year ago there have been seven accidents at the intersection.

"Even though the county has provided more than adequate lighting and signing of the junction, people just do not realize they are approaching a T-junction," Kermit said.

"IN ORDER TO prevent other accidents, the county has installed a seal coat containing heavy gravel in strips for 1000 feet south of the intersection," Kermit stated.

This seal coat will cause a rumble at intervals and will "wake up the driver" to the fact there may be danger ahead, said Kermit.

Hagstrom's Supermarket Observes Grand Opening

Even before its grand opening, to continue through Saturday, the new Hagstrom's Orinda Village supermarket had received "bouquets" in the food trade press as one of the most unusual supermarkets buildings in the nation.

Early visitors at the store's grand opening this weekend agreed that the striking ultra-modern supermarket is a distinctive and impressive addition to the rapidly developing business community on the "village side" of Orinda.

Architect Jack Butcher and Associates of Lafayette designed and developed the new supermarket in keeping with the area's architectural trends, following Hagstrom's requirements for its "Suburbanite" style community food shopping centers.

EMIL A. HAGSTROM, president of the East Bay food firm, said the new Orinda supermarket is the second to open of four new large-scale units announced by the firm earlier this year. The third will open next weekend in the Oakland Seminary district and a fourth large Hagstrom's store will be under construction shortly at Petaluma. Hagstrom's opened their new Richmond store in June.

Hagstrom's two sons, Calvin and Warren, both of Orinda, are executives in the firm. Calvin vice president and sales manager, has directed development of the Orinda Village supermarket.

Warren Hagstrom is executive associate of James Stockholm, secretary-treasurer and veteran head buyer of the firm.

THE NEW ORINDA Village supermarket faces Orinda Way running parallel to Camino Pablo, which is the rebuilt and renamed San Pablo Dam road. Access to Orinda Way is via Santa Maria Way, the first right turnout north of the Orinda interchange.

A modified shed roof of steel-ribbed construction spans the 165 foot width of the building, and the glassed in roof gusset and front facade of the building provide a striking interior view of the store from Orinda Way.

Other architectural features of the building include a buff field stone front exterior wainscote which joins roof eaves at both sides of the structure. Portions of the store front are in alternating black and white porcelain steel panels fitted into the 20-foot modular type construction.

THE BUILDING is completely air conditioned, and the large glass area provides shoppers inside an airy view of surrounding hillsides. Over the self-service meat department a high angular wall runs up to the 25-foot high roof ridge. It's painted flamboyant deep coral. Other walls are off white. Store fixtures are in light coral hues.

Side-wall shelving is illuminated by valance lighting which carries departmental identification.

The 16,000 square-foot building provides a sales area of approximately 12,000 square feet, with the remaining space devoted to self-service meat cutting and wrapping rooms, produce preparation area and reserve stock storage.

While Hagstrom's has larger floor area in some of their newer supermarkets, the 12,000 foot customer area has proven more convenient to the food shopper in the judgment of Hagstrom's management.

"IF YOU GET them too big our best customers—the ladies—feel like they're going on a safari rather than a pleasant treasure hunt for their favorite brands of food," according to Calvin Hagstrom, the firm's sales manager.

The store features well over 200 running feeet of refrigerated food cases to accomodate self-service meats, a big frozen food department and extensive fresh produce displays.

Two acres of paved and floodlighted parking area adjoin the front of the new Orinda Village Hagstrom's supermarket. The store has a front entrance and a covered side "patio entrance" for drive-up convenience.

We Goofed! We Apologize

The Sun sincerely regrets its error last Friday in mistakenly reporting that the Orinda Library dedication would be held that night.

We apologize for the inconvenience the blunder must have caused many people.

And that's the simple explanation . . . we goofed!

Your local merchant shops at home too. When you support him, the money stays in the community and we all benefit.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

All in Favor Say Aye!

As individuals, we may not all know one end of the jigsaw from the other, but as a Community of Do-It-Yourselfers, Orinda did it! The TOAST of the TOWN tonight is the new Orinda Community Library and its dedication ceremony set for 8 p.m.

YOU DID IT! The Orinda Association, under the presidency of Bob Boyle, and, later, Mel Arighi, donated the land where now a dream is realized — the fulfillment of a functioning & adequate public library, the handsome butterfly-roofed contemporary building, a superlative asset to the sylvan scene of our Suburbia.

YOU DID IT! The Orinda Library Building Committee w/over 2 yrs. of Sticktoitivity, a toast to Chrmn Perc Brown, Walter Boysen, Bill Fleager, Robert Gemetti Jr., George Hauerken, Mel Jacobus, Marvin Baker, J. C. Ross, Walter Friberg, Kaiser Man gone East Jack Watson, and lastly, but not leastly, the lady Virla Krotz — ALL for unstinting long efforts, you are rewarded! We are rewarded! We all Thank You!

Toasts of the Town . . .

CREDITS are Superfluous — So Many people involved! But for a few who worked especially hard — a Toast to Betty Madison, Elaine Wilford, Marge Scarich, the Orinda Womens' Club, Mrs. Roger Stark & her Garden Club women who worked lovingly & long to finish the plantings for tonight's christening.

TO LLOYD FARRAR, Ernest Spiegl of the Library Board, to ALL the civic groups, the Orchard & Moraga Nurseries, to Heini Gentry, Paul Vashell, H. H. Bridwell, Ernest Haynes. To each & everyone of us all, a friendly backslap to one another for a community job commendably done. One that will serve us in soul & mind, in body & brain for the wealth of wonders that books & knowledge, reading & relaxing can impart.

NEW INNOVATIONS incl. an automatic book-checker (photographic) — so Sara Malinowsky & Sib O'Flaherty can just sit back & smile smugly for awhile, an adding machine to tote up the inevitable fines, an outdoor reading area for sun & fresh-air fans and another contribution from the Orinda Womens' Club, a lending Record Library w/everything from Chopin & Schubert to Bellafonte & Brubeck. If you have any discs you'd like to donate, call Betty Madison at CL 4-3043.

Tonight's library launching gets underway at 8 — Dedication speaker to be Vice-Chancellor Hart of UC. Among the distinguished guests, our own Mrs. E. A. Dawson, Orinda's FIRST librarian Way Back When. Included in the Art Exhibit, arranged for by the Orinda Art Center, are paintings by the distinguished Orinda gentleman, Robert Neuhaus as well as SF's Jade Fong. Tonight at 8 PM then — we'll be seeing you. Between the bookshelves!

The Throes of the Town . . .

ELECTION DAY DITTY: Or shouldn't we mention it? Anyhow, kinda funny when the eager Election Board ladies turned up at one Precinct at 7 in the yawn's early light to find the ballot booths still unassembled. Undaunted, the gals tossed them up & together like a bunch of tinkertoys & proceeded w/the day's business. Til' around 10 a.m. when someone poked their head out of the booth to inquire — "Aren't these there supposed to be sides between the booths?" Ooops M'Dear, your ballot is showing!

In case you didn't know — Most of those on Election duty worked 24 hrs. plus around the clock w/two 2-hr. breaks only during the day. Those at the Community Church turned in at 10 a.m. the next morn & couldn't have seen a real Elephant or a Donkey if it was put right in front of them at THAT point!

THE ORINDA PARK POOL, charming pastoral picture-book place, is experiencing some groaning pains since its formation as a Corporation. All but one member of the Board desire "landscaping improvements" and the Dissenting One stands firm. He is a contsruction man & should know better than any. Majority of membership does not favor changes, figuring leave well enough alone — In view of what's happened across the street during winter rains w/land wash-outs & fill replaced over & over again. If you are a member, be advised it's to your benefit to find out about these costly so-called improvements in the lawn area. The road may be necessary, the lawn area, NO! Jack Saunders is your president, Merrill Olsen another man to call.

DIETETIC NOTE: Interesting to see what cookout vittles turn up at the Scout Campouts. During Troop 207's wknd. in the woods, one young Sleepy Hollow gourmet cooked a filet mignon, had a pack of frozen strawberries for dessert. Another Scout came prepared — w/a dozen hotdogs, most of which he downed for dinner, saving a few to go w/his one piece of bacon for breakfast the next morn.

The Talk of the Town . . .

THE KIDS KNOW IT ALL. And inform the Uninformed like ourselves — that the Sharpest customized car in town is "BABY", belonging to we know not who, but boasting, of all things, pen-striping, flaming, chopped top, rimmed headlights, kind of a cross between a '52 Ford & a "street rod." Boy, what we don't know!

Also — if you find ROchester 7-8900 tiring to dial for the time, just try POP and . . . four dit dots — even P-O-P-C-O-R-N will do. Where do the kids learn these things? From their Pops, of course!

RITCHIE & CLAIRE WARD departed for D.C. yesterday where Ritchie will attend a wk.-long conference as a representative of Shell Development. Then the couple fly to New York for 4 days, hop down to New Orleans for Thanksgiving Eve and will have their Turkey Dinner the following day in Houston, returning home on the 30th after a family visit in L.A.

Hal & Sib O'Flaherty who recently houseguested Southland visitor Terry Hill, will miss the Library opening. The handsome former Chicago Daily News-man & his attractive Librarian-lady being back in the Capitol City, too, for a visit w/their dghter. & grandchildren.

LEE FISHER, only dghtr. of long-time residents Howard & Margaret Fisher, flew East last Sat. — First for a visit w/former Orindan Nancie Miller Mahoney now living in Marblehead, Mass., (Nancie the dghtr. of veteran residents, the E. W. Millers of Loma Vista Dr.) thence to NY where Lee sails on the USSConstitution for Italy & a fascinating new job in the Physics Dept. at the Univ. of Padua.

The Clair Hardings are awaiting their third. They have two young sons, Reed & Paul.

A BIG NITE FOR STANFORD & CAL DIE-HARDS is "Big Game" night, Nov. 22 . . . Planning to attend the festive football dinner dance at the Orinda Country Club are the Ernest Abbes who will entertain at cocktails beforehand . . . Early reservations have been made by the Stan Holmgrens, Harry Martins, Hugh MacIntyres, the Jack Jannsses, and the Richard Frosts who have recently moved into their new menage across from the Club.

Hagstrom's Grand Opening Celebrated!

Grand opening of Hagstrom's new Orinda Village Supermarket was celebrated yesterday.

Orinda merchants joined in welcoming Hagstrom's and its beautiful new building, designed by Jack Buchter, Lafayette architect, as an outstanding addition to the many fine business firms which have chosen Orinda as a location.

Emil A. Hagstrom, president of the East Bay food firm, pointed out that the Orinda Village supermarket is the second to open of four new large-scale units announced by the firm earlier this year.

The building follows Hagstrom's requirements for a "suburbanite style" community food shopping center.

It faces Orinda Way, running parallel to Camino Pablo. Access is by Santa Maria Way, the first right turnout north of the Orinda interchange.

Calvin and Warren Hagstrom, both of Orinda, are executives in the firm. Calvin, vice president and sales manager has directed development of the Orinda Village Market.

Warren Hagstrom is executive associate of James Stockholm, veteran head buyer of the firm.

Store manager will be Otto Henningsen, 22 year veteran with Hagstrom's, who will supervise about 50 employees.

Store hours will be 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; other nights till 9 p.m.

The word for sweaters this fall is "big," says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Big in popularity — more wanted and more worn than ever in the long history of these handsome and practical garments.

Big in variety — more versions of more models and more types than ever before.

Merchandising Veterans Head Hagstrom's Staff

Grand opening of Hagstrom's food stores new Orinda Village supermarket, to continue through Saturday, brings to this area a retail facility with a staff of almost 50 persons to serve the expanding needs of the residents of the rapidly growing Orinda-Lafayette-Moraga area.

Manager of the new Orinda Village location for Hagstrom's is Otto Henningsen, veteran food store executive who has been with the firm for 22 years. He joined Hagstrom's just four years after the company was founded in 1932.

HEADING SELF-SERVICE meat operations is Kenneth Nelson, who has held meat market management positions for 24 of his 26 years with Hagstrom's, and comes to Orinda with highly specialized knowledge and experience demanded by modern meat merchandising methods.

L. D. Mayfield is in charge of the extensive fresh produce department at Hagstrom's in Orinda Village. He is a specialist in the preparation and display of perishables, and has assisted in establishment of improved merchandising techniques in produce departments of recently opened larger Hagstrom's units in other Bay Area communities.

Fred Riggs, previously assistant store manager at Hagstrom's in Walnut Creek, has been advanced to more responsible duties in the same position at the larger Orinda Village supermarket.

THE ORINDA VILLAGE store and other Contra Costa County Hagstrom's outlets are operated under the direction of Herb Hahn, district supervisor.

Crime Trend in County Follows All State: UP

Contra Costa County stayed right in step with the rest of the state, not only with its voting habits, but also with its crime rate.

In the mid-year summary of "Crime in California," published by the Department of Justice, State of California, the unincorporated areas of the county, as well as both central county cities, chalked up a "normal rating."

DURING THE FIRST six months of 1958, the period which the report covers, Contra Costa enjoyed a decrease in the rate for sex crimes and a slight decrease in narcotic offenses.

Whereas homicide, assault and auto theft increased slightly in other counties comparable to Contra Costa, the rate here was about normal, according to Harold G. Robinson, deputy director of the California Division of Criminal Law and Enforcement.

Burglary and grand theft rates showed average increases in the report, which was prepared by Ronald H. Beattie, chief of the Bureau of Criminal Statistics, but substantial increase for robbery and bad checks offenses were noticed.

IN A COUNTY breakdown the report concerns itself only with the seven major crimes; willful homicide, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, grand theft and auto theft.

"The present method of measuring crime is believed to make possible a more complete picture of crime trends than is elsewhere available, according to Robinson.

With the cooperation and support of the California Peace Officers' Association Committee on Uniform Crime Reporting and Criminal Statistics, the Bureau is investigating new methods and techniques with which to obtain better information regarding crime and criminals, he said.

THE INDEX OF crime used in the report reflects the crimes exemplified by the offenses generally considered by the public as meriting prison terms, he explained.

Excluded from the report are several hundred thousand misdemeanor offenses which occur throughout the state each year.

Among these common misdemeanor offences are vagrancy, drunkeness, prostitution, gambling, etc.

The Contra Costa Sheriff's office answered to a total of 710 "major" crime reports, including one homicide, 34 robberies, 49 assaults, 489 burglaries, 47 thefts and 78 auto thefts.

IN THE UNINCORPORATED areas of the county there were 12 rapes reported during the period of January 1 to June 30, 1958.

In Walnut Creek there was a total of 42 of the so-called major crimes.

Included were one case of robbery, 27 burglaries, five thefts and nine cases of auto theft.

Meanwhile, in Concord, there were 89 major crimes reported including one homicide, one robbery, 44 burglaries and 13 cases of auto theft.

IN CONCORD there were no cases of assault or rape while in Walnut Creek there was no cases of homicide or rape.

Not only is the perpetration of crime in the county included in the statewide report, but also the felony arrests and lew enforcement agency dispositions are included.

The Contra Costa Sheriff's office made a total of 98 felony arrests. There were 93 men and five women included in the total.

Of these six were released, none were turned over to other jurisdictions, seven had the felony complaints reduced to misdemeanor charges and the other 85 had felony complaints filed against them.

IN WALNUT CREEK there were seven felony arrests made which included six men and one woman. None were released, one had a misdemeanor charge filed against him and the six others had felony charges filed against them by the arresting agency.

Concord arrested a total of 31 persons for felony offenses, including 25 men and six women. Of these, two were released, three were turned over to other jurisdictions and seven had the felony complaints reduced to misdemeanor charges.

The other 19 had felony charges filed against them.

IN THE ENTIRE Contra Costa area, including the cities of Antioch, Brentwood, Concord, El Cerrito, Kensington Police District, Martinez, Pinole, Pittsburg, Richmond, San Pablo and Walnut Creek plus the unincorporated areas, there were 1568 reports of the seven major offenses.

There were two cases of homicid, 75 robberies, 107 assaults, 1034 burglaries, 99 thefts and 236 cars were stolen.

There were 15 cases of forcible rape reported in the unincorporated areas and the cities of Contra Costa during the first six months of this year.

Look Out For Mr. Mitchell! He Is Smooth Talker

"Contra Costa citizens were warned today by Dr. H. L. Blum, County Health Officer, to beware of a certain 'Mr. Mitchell' who has been calling local residents and misrepresenting himself as a health department employee.

This 'Mr. Mitchell' starts his telephone conversation by stating that he is calling for the health department.

He then asks a series of questions about such things as number of children and family immunization status.

"From the complaints that my office has received on this man's activities, we suspect that he is tied in with an insurance company and is selling some type of insurance policy."

Dr. Blum continued by pointing out, "That at the present time neither the health department nor any of its representatives are conducting any type of telephone survey.

We do have two on-going door to door surveys, one a county-wide accident survey, the other an immunization level survey in the Fairmede-College Highlands District of Richmond.

In addition, a direct mail survey will start in the near future, in the Brentwood area on crop dusting."

Safety Belt Saves Life

A safety belt apparently saved the life of James Milton Mannon, III, 30, investment counselor and racing driver. His fiberglass sportscar was demolished last Friday when it struck a power pole.

The crash occurred about 3 a.m. on Mt. Diablo Boulevard just west of Upper Happy Valley Road.

The safety belt was credited with saving Mannon's life by Highway Patrolman George Bergstrom.

Mannon, who lives at 119 Marshall Avenue in Walnut Creek, was standing beside the shattered vehicle when Bergstrom arrived. Mannon suffered rib injuries when the battery crashed through the auto's firewall into his lap.

Treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley, Mannon was reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Bergstrom said there were no skid marks, indicating that the driver had not applied the brakes before the crash. He was cited for driving too fast for road conditions.

PEACE OFFICERS in the cities and unincorporated areas of the county arrested a total of 347 persons for felonious crimes.

Of these, 313 were men and 34 were women. There were 45 released after arrest. 17 were turned over to other than county law enforcement jurisdictions and 57 had their felony complaints reduced to misdemeanor charges.

There were 228 of the original 347 who had actual felony complaints signed against them either by private individuals or law enforcement officials.

Contra Costa County Gets $269,548 for Road Projects

Apportionment of $12,997,449 in State and Federal funds to California counties for construction on county roads included in the Federal Aid Secondary System was announced today by the State Department of Public Works.

The allocation, which is for the 1959-60 fiscal year includes $8,724,389 from the Federal government and $4,273,060 in State Highway matching funds.

Contra Costa County's share for 1959-60 amounts too $269,548, of which $169,548 is Federal money and $100,000 from the State Highway Budget.

At the same tmie, State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy reported that all the participating counties will succeed in meeting the deadline for obligating the additional 1958-59 Federal Air Secondary and State matching funds which were provided under the 1958 Federal Highway Act.

The Federal act requires that the added funds have to be applied to previously unscheduled projects and that these new projects must be under contract before December 1.

THESE ADDITIONAL 1958-59 funds were allocated to the counties in April. This special allocation totalled $5,191,904, including $4,098,605 in Federal funds and $1,093,299 in State Highway matching money.

"All of the counties that participated in this 'crash' program have obligated their funds by awarded or advertised contracts, and it now apoears that the December 1 deadline will be met," McCoy said.

"The Division of Highways is proud to have been associated with the counties in this successful cooperative venture," he added.

The regular 1959-60 apportionment of $12,997,449 in State and Federal funds, which was announced today, is distributed to the counties according to Federal and State regulations.

The Federal funds are apportioned to the various counties according to the same formula used by the Federal Government in distributing Federal Aid Secondary funds to the States—one-third on the basis of area, one-third on rural population, and one-third on mileage of certain classes of rural mail routes.

THE MONEY FROM State sources is for the use of the counties in matching the Federal funds on the basis of approximately 58 per cent Federal to 42 per cent local funds. According to State law, $100,000 is the maximum amount which may be made available in the 1959-60 fiscal year to a county for use in matching its Federal allocation.

This $100,000 ceiling will permit 31 of the 57 eligible counties to match all of their Federal allocation out of funds provided by the State, except for a small amount of county funds required for contingencies and engineering.

County roads on which Federal Aid Secondary funds may be spent are those roads which have been designated by the county, with the approval of the California Highway Commission and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, as constiuting the county's Federal Aid Secondary system.

For the most part, these roads are next in importance to State Highways in terms of traffic volume and economic service to the locality, and are often referred to as "feeder roads" or "farm to market roads."

City Golf Inquiry is Proceeding

Walnut Creek "Task Force" committee members learned last Saturday that city councilmen may be willing to consider serious efforts towards establishment of a municipal golf course next year.

Mayor William von Tagen and City Manager Laverne Kimball told the committeemen that the city wants complete information on possible construction plans, financing and location of a city course.

The committeemen have already looked over two sites, and plan to make a "field survey" of two other sites tomorrow.

CAREFUL SCRUTINY was given to the John Spellacy ranch, located on Mt. View Drive. It covers about 200 acres, which is the size probably appropriate to a city golf course.

The committeemen have not arrived at any definite conclusions yet, but they have talked about possibilities for buying land for an 18-hole course, and planning for initial construction of a nine-hole course and clubhouse, which may be expanded in the future.

Costs may vary greatly, and could range in the $400,000 class.

The committeemen have talked to managers of other area golf courses. They have generally received "very favorable reactions" to proposals for a municipal course, Committee Secretary Bob Schroder told The Sun.

They will also consult the National Golf Foundation.

A BIG PROBLEM is irrigation water, said Schroder.

He said that committee members are interested in the cost of providing water to various sites considered. Contra Costa Canal water is cheaper than potable water provided by private companies, and it is a source for the Contra Costa Golf Club.

The cost of the sites, and their locations in relations to the water supply will be important factors.

A municipal golf course, when established, would require no membership fees, and any person wishing to play golf need only pay a nominal greens fee, Schroder said.

Present at the meeting last Saturday were Committee members Schroder, Gordon Hughes and David Jones.

Builders' Group To Elect Board

Central Contra Costa Builders Exchange members, wives and guests will attend the organization's year-end dinner-dance tomorrow at the Walnut Creek Elk's Club.

For the first time, the annual meeting will be held in conjunction with this year-end affair.

Frank Jackl, retiring as president of the building and construction group will be honored.

Members will elected new directors. Only half of the board is up for election, since it is practice to stagger elections in order to be assured of continuity of policy and experience.

Directors retiring are Ben Floyd, Marcel Descure, Curt Muller, Charles Prosser, Robert Pryor, Harold Turner.

Jackl retires to become the organization's fifth post-president since incorporation in 1954.

Directors whose terms do not expire until 1958 are Gilbert Fitch, Victor Kaufenberg, James Prouty, William O'Reilly, Ted Vanderbout and Hans Wachsmuth Jr.

Nominees to director posts being vacated are Don Baldwin, Concord; Mike Cavallo, Concord; Lawrence Cantrell, Walnut Creek; Dominic Del Monte, Pittsburg; Ben Floyd, Pleasant Hill; Marcel Lescure, Lafayette.

MEMBERS AND GUESTS of the Mental Health Association of Central Contra Costa, a United Crusade Agency, heard an address by Dr. Albert Kostlan, chief psychologist at the Veteran's Administration Hospital, Oakland, at a tea held in Walnut Creek to form the society's auxiliary, "The Belles." Shown above are Mrs. S. B. Fish, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Hans Wendel, president, Lafayette; Dr. Albert Kostalan, Lafayette, and Mrs. A. D. Lindsay, Walnut Creek.

Dramateurs' First Show In New Home

By RICH WHIPPLE

For many years one of the East Bay's most respected amateur theatre groups, the Dramateurs have now made the Town Hall in Lafayette their home. Their move will bring dramatically excellent bi-monthly productions of current hit plays to within easy driving distance for everyone living between Mount Diablo and the Berkeley Hills.

Like all amateur dramatic groups, the Dramateurs is a non-profit organization, and exists solely to give theatrical enjoyment to actors and their audiences. Only the director receives any pay.

THE DRAMATEURS was founded almost 12 years ago in Orinda, and many current members have been active from the beginning. Most of the group's shows in the past have been put on in Berkeley, with the exception of some summer productions in Lafayette the past two years.

Last winter, noted President Paul Pollaczek, the Dramateurs underwent an "agonizing reappraisal" of their membership and their audiences and found both to be centered in Contra Costa County.

Negotiations began at once with the Lafayette Improvement Association for a long lease on the Town Hall.

Final papers were signed a few weeks ago, and vigorous preparations for the first of six shows of the 1958-59 season are under way there now. Extensive alterations are planned to make the building ideal for presentation of every type of dramatic entertainment.

For their first production in their new home, the Dramateurs have chosen "Separate Tables"—a Broadway hit of two seasons ago just released for amateur production.

In fact, next Friday at the Town Hall will be the first Bay Area showing! Dramateurs Director Carl Rasmussen likes to provide his audiences (and actors) with the freshest and most intriguing material available. You will know this for a fact if you saw "Chalk Garden" or "The Desk Set" there this summer.

"AS NEW MEMBERS of the Lafayette-Walnut Creek community", said Pollaczek, "we want to meet everyone in the valley who is interested in seeing plays well presented — to have them either in our audiences, or better yet, working with us in their production".

Membership chairman is Mrs. Wyatt King, CL 4-4760.

Handbook By Orinda Schools

By MARION LONG

A parents handbook entitled "Your Elementary Schools" has been published by the Orinda Union School District and distributed to members of the community. This informative booklet is designed to provide the public with a clearer understanding of the educational program of the elementary schools and of the rules, regulations and policies of the Orinda Union School District.

The book covers basic subjects from kindergarten, where the new scholar is led in a desire to learn to read, to count, to work and play with others, to develop good health habits and to begin an interest in the study of science, to the completion of the eighth grade and to where he has developed skills in reading, handwriting, arithmetic, language, spelling, social studies, science and physical education and has been given specialized instruction in musc education, library, art, special activity programs, home arts and home mechanics.

IN THE BOOK is also information on special services such as speech, guidance, remedial instruction, home instruction and tests; pupil information on homework, make-up work, reporting to parents, discipline, pupil safety, releasing of pupils, registration, school age, transportation, lunches, messages and use of school buildings.

Breakdown charts showing how the district money is obtained and spent (in the past as well as plans for the future) are shown and the school calendar for the year is printed on the back cover. This calendar will be supplemented at the beginning of each semester for parent reference to holidays and special dates pertaining to school activities.

INTRODUCED IN the booklet is a new program which is in the process of being developed at the seventh and eighth grade level for children with higher than normal ability, whereby the educational needs of these children will be given adequate atention to afford them opportunities for study within and to the limits of their capacity.

This program is being developed by the Orinda School District after a comprehensive study of the gifted child programs that are currently being employed throughout the country.

The Orinda Welcome Wagon, an organization which greets newcomers to the community, will include this booklet with their introduction-welcome program. Extra copies may be obtained by residents who have not received one by phoning Mr. Gaskell at the Orinda Union School or by contacting the district office.

THE EDUCATIONAL Philosophy of the Orinda Union School Districts as set forth in the Parents Handbook:

"It shall be our goal:

"To provide each child with a firm foundation in the basic subjects.

"To broaden the academic experience of each child by providing an enriched educational environment conducive to the stimulation of cultural appreciation.

"To provide a curriculum design sufficiently flexible to meet the changing needs of society.

"To provide the opportunity for every child to develop to the fullest extent of his mental and physical capabilities.

"To imbue each child with the ideals of democracy and the inherent worth of the human individual."

Letters to The Editor

NEWS COVERAGE
Dear Editor:

Orinda community residents have always been happy to support their local paper, "The Orinda Sun."

The policy of The Sun has been one of integrity and decency—a policy of putting the best interests of the community first. Its reportorial style has been in good taste and of high calibre.

We are, therefore, shocked and angered at the apparent reversal of long established policy. I refer specifically to an article on page six of the November 7 issue of The Orinda Sun.

THE YOUNG mother referred to in this "news" item is a highly respected, well loved member of our community. The illness which struck her, and which caused the incident reported in your paper, has saddened us all.

We, her friends and neighbors, are standing by, ready and willing to help in any way we can while this fine mother is ill, just as any friends and neighbors in any community would do during any illness. We want to help!

How much help has your paper given this young woman by your "news" story? (How much harm has it done?)

HOW MUCH PITY for a suffering woman and her family has your paper shown? (How cruel can a newspaper be under the banner of NEWS?)

What is so hilarious about illness that it must be reported in a cruelly facetious vein?

Why print such a story to begin with?

When I questioned your associate editor as to why this story was printed, I was informed that "anything on record at the sheriff's office was printed."

IS THIS A requirement? How many calls per day come into the sheriff's office? What percentage are used for your news stories?

Such an illness could happen in any family. It could happen in your family. It could happen in mine.

It could be reported to the sheriff's office. Would this kind of "news" item have appeared in The Orinda Sun had such an illness attacked a member of your family?

(Signed by 19 Orinda Residents)

Homes Pictured In Magazine

Two homes in Central Contra Costa County, one in Orinda and one in Lafayette, are included in a "picture tour" of 27 professionally designed homes, gardens and interiors shown in the current issue of Book of Homes, now on newsstands.

Vandals Destroy

Boyd Farr, 1068 Via Roble, reported to the sheriffs Lafayette substation that vandals bent television antenna masts along a fence on his property last Friday night, and that it will cost about $500 to repair the damage.

The masts serve Farr's television and sets of four neighbors on a special setup.

DAR Chooses Kay Wiley for Citizen Award

Kaye Wiley has been selected as the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen's Award, according to Lee Russell, Las Lomas High principal.

She was chosen by a committee for "dependability, service, and patriotism."

She will be honored in February at a luncheon in Walnut Creek, where she will be presented with a pin and a certificate.

She also will be eligible to enter competition for further honors on a state basis by taking a test in American History and Civics.

Kaye is president of Girls' League and has been a member of the school honor society for the past three years.

She was cheerleader and secretary of House of Representatives. Kaye was selected to represent Las Lomas at Girls State in Sacramento last summer.

Eoff Low Bidder On School Unit

Ed Eoff Construction Company has submitted a bid of $109,875 for an addition to Glorietta School.

Lowest of seven bids submitted at a special meeting of the Orinda School Board Monday night, the amount is within the limit set by the State Allocations Board, said Joseph Sheaff, superintendent.

It was the third time bids had been called for on the addition, to provide three classrooms, a kindergarten room, and library. Twice previously bids were rejected because they exceeded the limit.

The contract will be awarded as soon as it is approved by the Allocations Board, Sheaff said.

The board approved sending Jack Clark, Glorietta principal, as a delegate to the California Mathematics Council meeting to be held November 21 and 22 at Asilomar.

Quick Reaction, Double Crash

Trouble came double for Mrs. Yvonne Meyer, 31, of 58 Camino del Diablo, yesterday when her car was involved in a collision in Oakland.

Police said her sports car struck the rear of a car driven by Norman Andrus of Decoto, and that she instantly shifted into reverse, slamming into the front of an auto driven by Emiline Thurman of Atherton.

Mrs. Meyer received treatment at Peralta Hospital for cuts on her face and a bruised shoulder. Andrus was bruised; the other driver uninjured. No citation was issued.

Parents Club Meets Tuesday

The Moraga Del Rey Parents Club November meeting will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at the Miramonte High School. Glenn McNicholas will be the speaker. His topic will be "The Curriculum in the Orinda Grammar Schools."

Tennis Team Loses, to Try Modesto Hosts

Bushrod Tennis Club of Oakland squeezed out a 5-4 victory over the Diablo Valley Club last Sunday on the Los Lomas High School courts.

This match saw the two teams battling for top honors in the East Bay Valley Tennis League.

The outcome in Bushrod's favor may have decided the league title, although both clubs have two matches yet to be played.

After dividing the six singles matches at three apiece, the Bushrod netters clinched victory by taking two of the three doubles events.

Bushrod's third doubles team of Bob Mays and Lowell Welch won the deciding and last match of the day in a three set encounter with Fred Draemel and Clayt Rea.

Bob Vincent, Diablo's No. 1 player, lost his first match of the season in three sets to Jack Preston, who has yet to be beaten.

Bob Wiederhorn and Jim Bragg of Diablo won their matches in convincing straight sets. Bragg has yet to be defeated in league play.

Floyd Svenson, Diablo's No. 4 netter, defeated Bob Satterthwaite 2-6, 6-4, 6-4 in the best match of the day. Weiderhorn and Ed Oehlschlaeger won their doubles match in easy style over Ray Kline and Satterthwaite.

Diablo Valley will travel to Modesto next Sunday to engage the Modesto club, which holds the only victory of the season over Bushrod.

How to Sell: Stutter?

There's always a new angle to the old game of appealing to kind-hearted housewives.

Two magazine salesmen canvassing house-to-house in Orinda this week pretended to stutter badly, and to be engaged in sales work as a means of trying to conquer their affliction.

Mrs. Lou Taylor of the Oakland Better Business Bureau said she had received several calls from Orinda complaining about high pressure methods used by the salesmen.

She checked with their crew manager, who she said represents a reputable concern.

The crew manager reported that one of the men has a very slight speech impediment, barely noticeable, and that the other has no speech impediment.

Don C. McMacken of Orinda has returned home following a six-weeks' tour of Alaska as a civilian lubrication adviser to the Army.

The Army invited McMacken, who is senior engineer in Shell Oil Company's products application department, to visit Alaska to discuss lubrication problems with Army and Air Force personnel.

During his tour he delivered five lectures and visited several out-of-the-way posts to make specific recommendations to crews faced with lubrication problems in temperatures reaching 50 below zero.

McMacken has previously flown numerous high altitude missions with the Air Force's B36 bombers flight-testing Shell's TCP.

McMacken, a University of Washington graduate, has been with the company more than 20 years. He resides at 26 Van Ripper Lane, Orinda.

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

The long pole in the hands of this telephone man looks like just the thing for fishing. But it's not a fish he's after; it's trouble. He's giving that cable a "bubble bath," spraying it with a gummy, liquid solution. If the cable is damaged, air will escape through the cracks and form bubbles along the cable. And that's our cue to make repairs swiftly, so your calls won't be affected. In this and many other ways, we keep close tabs on your service. This keeps your phone working more dependably—makes your service better.

NATION WIDE DIALING COMES TO ORINDA
Pictured is Orinda's new Telephone office, Central Contra Costa Countys latest addition to the Nation Wide Dialing Net work. Over 2000 people helped celebrate the event by attending an Open House on October 3 and 4. Demonstrations were provided explaining the direct distance dialing system and how it operates. In addition many other exhibits plus conducted tours provided the visitors with highlights on the operation and maintainance of telephone equipment and service. Thanks to our many telephone users whose enthusiastic response made our program a success. Pacific Telephone Company

Election Demonstrated That This Area Wants Out!

We want out!

We, refers to most of the residents of Central Contra Costa County, and out refers to the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

It should be obvious to all concerned, especially the board of directors of the transit district, that this area is not particularly happy with the proposals as set forth by the district.

Even the people of Oakland can't be too happy, because although the majority approved of the bond issue, it still didn't get the two-thirds vote needed for passage, even in Oakland.

It was soundly trounced out here.

So, it seems, people don't want that $16.9 million bond issue jammed down their throats.

ALREADY CIVIC organizations are turning to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to try to block any attempt on the part of the transit district to call another bond issue.

It would appear that the transit district has bitten off more than it can chew. The original purpose of the district was to purchase Key System, and this would be a fine thing indeed for residents on the Bay side of the hills.

We suggest that the transit district let us out, and then re-phrase their plans to center around the purchase of the Key lines. This might pass in the Oakland area.

Furthermore, people out here are not exactly unhappy with Greyhound. The Contra Costa Commuters Association went on record before the election as favoring a no vote on the transit district bonds, and this group should know. After all, its members ride the buses.

ALSO, IF THE transit district is going to sell a bond issue to the voters it is going to have to demonstrate economy. Some taxpayers have questioned the hiring of expensive personnel by the district, and the spending of thousands of dollars of taxpayers money in attempting to pass bond issues. It is questionable whether the district should have done what it did.

While we did not bring this item up before the bond issue, we feel that it should be mentioned now.

THERE CAN BE no question but that this area wants out of the transit district. The bond issue vote has demonstrated this.

It is up to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to carry the ball for the residents and taxpayers in this matter.

The board can ask the transit district directors to:

1. Let us out, which the transit district board can do if it wishes.

2. Hold an election, and then abide by the wishes of the people as shown by the results of the election.

If the transit district refuses to consider these methods of getting our area out of the district, then the board of supervisors would have to ask our senator and assemblyman to enact changes in the law which formed the transit district.

IN THE MEANTIME, all other official and unofficial organizations should make their wishes felt. The Lafayette Improvement Association has already contacted the board of supervisors, and it would be a good thing if other civic organizations in Orinda, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Pleasant Hill were to follow suit.

Consider this. There is no reason why we should be in the transit district now. If we were released from this district, there is no reason why, if the residents of this area eventually feel that they need such transit facilities as the district could provide, they could not then be annexed.

But in the meantime, we want out!

Hats Off to Commuters . . .

It is always pleasant to see evidence of planning and foresight, and when such comes to view, to tip our hats to those responsible.

In this case it is the Contra Costa County Commuters Association which has earned the plaudits.

Instead of waiting for all the nice new freeways to be constructed, and then finding themselves without a place to board the bus, the commuters have been thinking ahead.

THEY HAVE BEEN working with the California Public Utilities Commission and the State Division of Highways to see that convenient bus turnout areas are constructed as the highway work is done.

They did a similar job a few years ago when the Orinda interchange was built, and they are now working on the Lafayette-Orinda freeway link and the Walnut Creek bypass.

It is this kind of organization, working for its members, which accomplishes constructive and worthwhile projects.

THE GROUP HAS proved that a great deal can be accomplished when meetings are held in a spirit of mutual cooperation. Instead of fighting and arguing over what should be done and how it should be accomplished, quiet meetings have been held and the problem has been solved before it even began to exist.

So we say hats off to the Commuters Association for its fine work, and we are sure that these sentiments are shared by the thousands of commuters who ride the buses each day.

It is a job well done.

Let's Celebrate . . .

By NORMAN COLBY

As suburbia residents in the good old U.S.A., we are supposed to have more to celebrate than anyone else in the whole world.

Our critics say that it might be better for us if we had a little less to celebrate, and I can agree with them in one respect.

I don't mind those constant reminders that we must observe "by the numbers" such special events as Mothers Day, Fathers Day and Veterans Day (last Tuesday). The causes are worthy.

And I would probably get really enthusiastic about Christmas and the tradition of Santa Claus except for the frenzy stirred up each year — a frenzy which leaves me very little to do but try to grab the brass ring and hold on, smiling, like in the posters.

The "causes" are also worthy for a large number of other special days, weeks and months. But fortunately for the average citizen, the drum beat is fainter.

If you want to get in on the fun, okay. Very little third degree involved, usually.

Here is a sampling, only a sampling, of advertising's "Americana"—your excuse for a modest celebration:

WEAR SOMETHING WHITE AFTER DARK

When the sun does down, pedestrian deaths go up. The reduced visibility during the darkness hours makes both walking and driving conditions more difficult.

It is no coincidence that the greatest number of pedestrian deaths occur during December—the month with the most hours of darkness. As the days grow longer, the toll drops off sharply.

The AAA offers the following advice: You can protect yourself best when walking at night by wearing a light article of clothing, preferably shoes or stockings (trousers in the case of men) since the headlight beam of most cars will first hit low on the body. On the other hand, dark clothing greatly reduces the distance you can be seen by approaching vehicles, in some cases, as much as 50 per cent.

Don't take unnecessary chances. Wear something white at night, and give the driver a chance to see you.

Cat in a Hot Tin Cage -- Farewell, Cap Midnight!

By MARIE MONAHAN

Cat in Hot Tin Cage

THE BIG BLACK PANTHER, prowling our house the past two hours, is now purring on the sofa. Contented w/cream & dreaming of fresh crab!

This sleek animal has solved all our problems. At least the Biggest One bothering us for over a month.

Now that the cat is in captivity, everything else seems infinitesimal. We feel like Frank Buck of Bring 'em Back Alive fame. Only we're SENDING this one. South tomorrow. Via Greyhound or Train. Whichever gets there first.

The coal-black creature w/the oval yellow eyes is really a Tom Cat. Not any old Tom Cat. A very special Tom Cat. The adored pet of our former neighbors, the ones who helped us in many a jam, who turned off the oven we'd left on & unplugged the iron we'd forgot. And who kept us, for almost a decade, in countless cups of sugar & salt, onions, butter, flour & something we never CAN remember to replace — Vanilla!

WE WOULD do practically anything for these people!

Captain Midnight Pussyfoots . . .

Our friends & Best Borrowers - From moved to the Southland a month ago. On the day of their departure, their handsome cat, name of Captain Midnight, did a disappearing act.

And as the frantic callings of "Here, Kitty, Kitty" climaxed in tearful goodbyes, we choked w/emotion & promised to send their pet pronto! PRONTO!

FOR FIVE WEEKS we played tag w/an illusive black speck. The children left food & milk. But he never came when they were there. There's no telling who freeloaded the Friskies, but for all HIS days of foraging the fields, the fine feline obviously acquired his now portly profile from feasting exclusively on fat bluejays. W/tender mice for the trimmings.

HE LIVED HIGH & WILD. And nightly we worried & remembered him in our prayers. While visions of vanilla beans danced 'round in our head!

Then yesterday the dogs chased him. Right up our apple tree. The Captain decided then the Vagabond Life was not for him & turned up when the children took his usual fare. They carried him cautiously home where he cased the joint, closet to cupboard, meowling mournfully, while we latched the doors, shut the windows.

When he settled down, the kids considered keeping him. "Why not, Mommy?", they begged. "We could call our white cat Whitey and this one Blackie & wouldn't that be cute?" We agreed it was a novel idea.

Kitty Kitnapping?

THEN WE CONSIDERED cat-napping him for ourselves. Purely for impressive purposes. He looks exactly like "Old Tombstone," Benny Bufano's cat, the black-marble mascot of the SFPress Club. This would add a nofficial note around here. We could have off-the-cuff confabs - "Behind the Black Cat" sessions — which is what they do THERE w/visiting celebs. We'd settle for Club ladies, tired housewives, babbling Brownies & hungry Boy Scouts. And the black cat could sit on the typewriter, dusting off the keys w/his tail, seeing All, hearing All, telling Nothing. But what good would THAT do! Besides, he'd remind us of vanilla.

So tonight he is an honorary House Gluest. Tomorrow he goes South. In a nifty cage shaped like a loaf of bread w/a door at one end, a roof of rat wire. Something we S.O.S.-ed the local Pet Shop for. $6.95. We are advised to send along his Calo rations, a dish to hold his drinks. We must print the shipping labels clearly and let THEM know he's coming.

We are So Glad to get him off our mind. Not to mention the Vanilla!

Letters to The Editor

BOND ISSUE
Dear Editor:

I read with interest your Under The Sun article "How Did This Area Vote?"

Would you please explain or discuss in your paper the article which recently appeared in The Sun and other papers referring to a special levy proposed by County Administrator Desmond Teeter to provide a building fund for the county?

Why, when the bond issue for $1,220,000 for building at Martinez and Pittsburg were voted down by a 2-1 margin can the county administrator go right over the voters heads and impose a special levy of five cents on the tax rate?

If we wanted the money spent this way certainly the bond issues would have passed.

Mrs. Walter Edmonds Jr.

(Ed. Note: This hasty comment by the county administrator will be discussed by The Sun in the future.)

VOTERS THANKED
DEAR EDITOR:

I should like to take the opportunity through the medium of your newspaper to express my deepest appreciation to the thousands of citizens who voted for me in the election on November 4th.

It has been a privilege to represent them in the House of Representatives during the past four years, and it is most reassuring to receive their vote of confidence again in this election.

May I likewise express my deep appreciation to the many volunteer workers who devoted so many hours of effort in my behalf. It is most inspiring to have the support and confidence of the citizens of the California Sixth Congressional District.

JOHN F. BALDWIN

THANK YOU
DEAR EDITOR:

Please accept my grateful appreciation for your courteous treatment of my campaign efforts for election to the Assembly, 10th District.

I am extremely pleased with the support extended me by the voters of this district. Although elated by the results, my elation is somewhat tempered by a realization of the responsibility that is now mine.

Our District has ever been fortunate in having excellent representation in the Assembly and I shall do my utmost to continue that type of representation.

2 Yr. Family Safety Study Starts

"Nationwide interest is focused on the 'Family Safety Study' in Contra Costa County. It got under way this month," reported Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

The first volunteer training meetings start this week for women who will take part in the project.

Other volunteers are being recruited for training in January. Family safety visits will be made to families with a young child who are selected statistically for participation.

Volunteers will study safety experience in that home.

The 32nd District of the PTA has endorsed the project. Dr. Maxine Sehring, safety consultant to the district, has also advised the health department staff regarding family safety problems to be considered by the study.

District PTA's are participating and local units are discussing the activity at their school meetings. The Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County has participated in recruiting volunteer coordinators and advising on the development of the plans.

Other clubs and groups will be contacted for assistance throughout the two years of the study.

Area leaders are coordinating volunteer activities in the county. They include Mrs. David Brenner; Concord-Clayton, Mrs. E. W. McCreary; Lafayette. Mrs. Henry Agler; Orinda-Moraga-Canyon, Mrs. Bartlett Heard; Pleasant Hill, Mrs. John Weil.

Alamo, Danville, San Ramon, Mrs. Lawrence Hudson.

Under The Sun

Our Kids Eat Everything! Here Is The Secret:

I grew up hating spinach, fish and many other foods. Not too long ago I realized that the Silverman kids seem to eat everything. Was this my good training? Or did Mother Eleanor have something to do with it? I presume you've already guessed the answer. Thought this would make a good column, so here is one by The Sun's home economist and child guidance expert and wife of this columnist.

By ELEANOR SILVERMAN

"Ugh! Not stinky old orange juice again. Mommy, do I have to eat these eggs. . . ."

Same scene—same child—two months later:

"Can I have some more orange juice? Do you got any more eggs, Mommy?"

What happened to cause this change of heart—or should we say, change of appetite?

Frankly, I don't understand it myself. I have a theory which I have tried on my kids and it has worked. Perhaps, if you will try it too, and it works, we can discover a new way to encourage children to eat everything.

Punishment or persuasion

When my children express a dislike for a certain food, I try to talk them into at least eating a part of it. This can be mighty discouraging and is generally unsuccessful. When the issue is forced with threats and punishments, the child often develops a permanent dislike for the food.

The secret theory is as follows: The next time the disliked dish is served, I play dumb. I simply can't remember which one likes the pineapple in the fruit cocktail, which one prefers the pears, and which one hates the cherries. They all get the same portion. When meat is served, I just can't remember which child likes it plan without sauce, which one likes it as is.

And I never, NEVER serve a special dish as a substitute for the disliked food. Sometimes it does seem cruel, but there is usually enough served at a given meal to satisfy a hungry child, even if one or two things are disliked.

I must admit there have been times when I have weakened and served separate dishes, particularly with the highly spiced foreign foods. The last time we had curried shrimp with rice, I made one serving bowl with the curry and one with the plain shrimp and rice. Much to my surprise, we had the plain dish as the leftover.

One of the main drawbacks to this system is the problem of wasted food. Serving a child even a small portion of a dish that they might very well pass up can be wasteful. Then, too, it can serve as a bad example when you are trying to teach them not to waste food.

One answer is to eat the leftover off their plates yourself—a fattening habit, to say the least. Sometimes another member of the family who "just loves" the uneaten portion will snatch it up and save face (and food, too) for all. Sometimes, leftovers can be carefully put back in the refrigerator with the main leftover dish. (A dangerous practice when flu bugs are around.)

And sometimes food is simply wasted. But I will contend, and hope to prove, that in the long run the total result (i.e. a child who eats practically everything) will save more food over a period of years than the portions wasted.

Does it work?

How does this theory of serving everybody everything over a period of years work out in practice?

The results are astonishing!

The children have a hard time keeping track of their likes and dislikes over a period of time. Sometimes, when they get into an interesting conversation, they absent-mindedly find themselves eating a formerly hated dish.

The saving in time and effort when the entire family likes almost everything is certainly worth the effort. I shudder when I hear friends describe meals planned to suit individual members of the family—with chops for the kids, ham for mother and dad, and on and on. It is just too much trouble.

The alternative of serving only the foods liked by all can be boring and unappetizing, with a menu looking something like this: Chops, steaks, green salads and corn on the cob.

When the kids eat next door . . .

Another advantage is the joy of sending your children off to a dinner away from home with the knowledge that they won't starve for lack of familiar and desired foods. There is nothing more discouraging than having neighbor children for lunch, only to find that, if you don't check first to see what they like, they will leave their plates practically untouched.

Of course, I don't let the kids in on my system. They must think I am completely absent minded—"Mother, can't you remember that I hate this?"

But the effect is becoming noticeable. Last night one little one heaved a huge sigh after plowing through a dish of spaghetti and fishing out countless mushrooms. With great disgust, she said, "I guess I'll just have to learn to like these things."

Try the system, it's worth the hazards. And, believe it or not—it works on husbands, too!

Dr. Zhivago's Studies Probe Why Even Color Blind Read

By JOYCE BARNUM

Even the color blind can read.

And no matter the colors behind which the censors and banners of books operate, results are often predictable.

BORIS PASTERNAK'S "Dr. Zhivago" and Kathleen Windsor's "Forever Amber" have little in common, as to content.

Both, however, share the dubious distinction of having been banned. By different colored censors, of course. And for vastly different reasons.

Fully realizing just what they had, the publishers of "Amber" were sure to see that an advance copy of the book got to Boston. They probably sent it via registered mail and then sat back to await the inevitable.

"Amber" caused the blue noses of the Boston censors to twitch with distaste. Its sale was promptly banned in their city. This action delighted the authoress and her publishers. The effect of the Boston ban has ever been a happy one for book sales.

NO MATTER WHAT reviewers and critics found "Amber" to be, its sale was assured, once the ban had been proclaimed.

The publishers set the presses to rolling overtime. "Amber" was long on words and long on sales. Once the censors had decried its moral outlook, even the illiterate were besieging the bookstores for copies of the tome.

Censors operate differently. Their motivations, in addition to their colors, vary.

Author Pasternak had submitted his manuscript to the proper red authorities. They glanced at "Dr. Zhivago" and sloppily misplaced it. Undeterred by this carlessness, Pasternak sent a copy of his work to a publisher who represented the red colors in Italy.

Italians, including those who support the communists in Italy, have a remarkable attitude toward logic. Everything can be argued two ways, and is. When red censors remonstrated with their outpost publisher, he became more Italian than communist and defied orders to cease and desist. Instead he proceeded to set his presses running full speed ahead.

THE INEVITABLE HAPPENED. Book reviewers and critics read the patiently fashioned, beautifully written Pasternak novel and screamed aloud for the world to heed this man and the message he presented to it.

The supreme accolade was accorded "Dr. Zhivago" when it was awarded the Nobel prize for literature.

Until this occurrence, the red censors had been content to bury their heads in their hands and rue the day that they had misplaced the manuscript sent them by the author. The lesser Kremlinites relied upon the method of belittling this book.

THE BIGGEST AND reddest censor of them all, Kruschev, declared Pasternak to be personna non grata, and demanded that the author reject the Nobel award or never darken the soil of his motherland for another day.

The humbleness of this great man has reached far into the world. The system which he reveals so clearly to the world in his "Dr. Zhivago" displays itself anew to be as crude and liberty-crushing today as during the days of the purges and collectivization resistance.

MUGWUMPS THROUGHOUT the world have been given front row seats to a thought provoking drama. Clearly revealed to them is the course they must follow if they lean too far over the fence in the direction of the red bait.

Imperfect as the world is on our side of the fence, the dignity and freedom of the individual retain their values.

KNIGHTS TAKE DIVISION TITLE - Sports -

Undefeated Las Lomas Dumps Piedmont 48-19

The Las Lomas Knights rose to the occasion last Friday night as they topped an undefeated season with their best game to rap the Piedmont hopefuls 48-19 and im so doing wrap up the Foothill Division title.

The issue was pretty well decided early in the game as the Knights passed and ran to an easy 28-0 halftime lead.

THE TIPOFF on what was to come came early in the game. Piedmont took the opening kickoff and after a couple of plays at the line tried a quick kick.

Halfback Kevin Hogan in a hurried try booted the ball but 22 yards when he was rushed and it went out on the Highlanders 40. A series of five plays brought the ball to the 24. The next play found quarterback Don Hopkins dropping back and threading the needle with a perfect strike on a pass to end Jim Sisler in the end zone.

The quarter ended with Las Lomas dominating the play but unable to do any further scoring.

THE ROOF REALLY fell in during the second period when the Knights rocked and socked to three more touchdowns and fullback Clark Ransome added to the grand total as he kicked three for three to bring the count to 28-0 at the half.

Moore scored the second touchdown on a slant off right tackle from eight yards out to climax a 51-yard drive.

Knight guard Harold Rogers set the stage for the next score when he recovered a fumble on the Highlanders 24-yard line.

Four plays at the line with Ransome and Moore alternating on carries was ended when Moore went over the right side of the line to score from 11 yards out. The key block came from tackle Dave Weil.

The third touchdown of the quarter came on a 58-yard drive in six plays, with Ransome over right guard for the final yard.

PIEDMONT SHOWED a spurt of life in the opening of the second half when they scored two touchdowns in impressive fashion.

They held Las Lomas after kicking off, then took the ball for a 58-yard scoring drive. A 15 yard penalty slowed them down only temporarily as they went the distance in nine plays.

Halfback John Griffith hit for the score on a smash for the final yard over right guard. Fullback Bobby Jones, who ate up considerable yardage with some fine running on the seven took a pass from quarterback Steve Wilcox for point number seven.

LATER IN THE period halfback Gary Heiner recovered a Knight fumble to give the clan life on the Las Lomas 43. Wilcox took to the air as he hit Jones in the right flat for 10, then came back with a 33-yard heave to Hogan who scored standing up as he took the ball in the end zone.

The attempted pass play on the conversion try missed.

The Knights tightened their belts at this point and went back to work as they drove 60 yards in six plays to score. It was Moore again with the TD when he drove over right guard for the final yard.

This time Ransome's boot was wide—his only miss of the night. In the final quarter the two clubs scored three times—Las Lomas twice and Piedmont once.

Moore did it again late in the period when he scored again, only this time through left guard on a one-yard buck. Ransome added both extra points on placement kicks.

Piedmont scored the final touchdown with Las Lomas reserves in the game. The kickoff was returned to Piedmont's 38 by halfback Gary O'Hara. Time was running out but Wilcox made full use of it when he tossed a pass to end Mike Miller, which ended up on the Knights 46.

The next play found Hogan racing down field from a flanker spot to outdistance the defenders end Wilcox, but he went in untouched to score.

Another attempted conversion pass was broken up.

MOORE, WHO HAD a big night, was easily the game's leading ground gainer, as he accounted for 122 yards on his own.

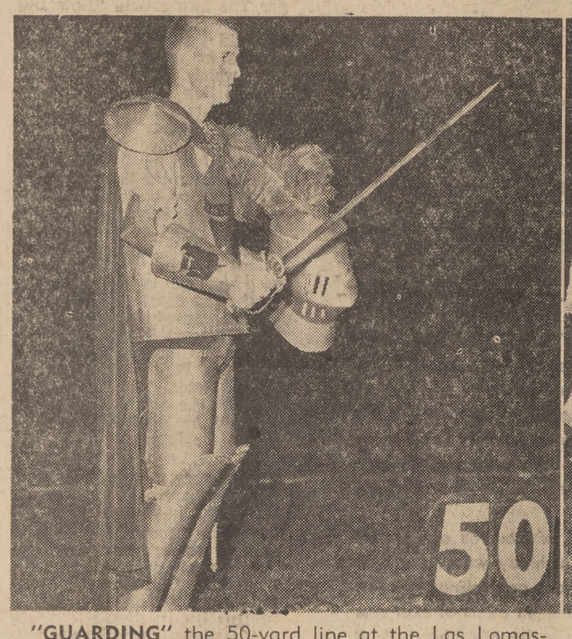
The Knights' rushing game accounted for 225 yards as they also hit on 8 of 11 passes for 161 yards.

Piedmont found the going on the ground rough as they totalled but 62 yards. Their best success was through the air, with 171 yards on 13 completions in 22 tries.

In first downs the Knights held a decisive 15-7 edge.

The Knight line was steady all game long and it was an all-out team effort that gave them the win and the championship along with an undefeated season.

The Highlanders bright stars in an otherwise gloomy night were Wilcox with his passing and sophomore fullback Bobby Jones who did some good running.



"GUARDING" the 50-yard line at the Las Lomas-Piedmont football game is Knight Tom Havlett, arrayed in medieval armor. He did a good job, as Piedmont was in its own back yard most of the night.

CRASHING OVER tackle for a touchdown is Clark Ransome (35), Las Lomas fullback. Blocking open the hole is Dave Weill (48), 250-pound tackle. Piedmont players, in white, are Kevin Hogan (88), and George Conn, (10).

Knights Win High Praise; Sign Burners Cowardly

By ERWIN MATTSON

Last Friday night the Las Lomas Knights rose to the heights as they waxed the Piedmont Highlanders to wind up an undefeated season and cop the championship of the newly created Foothill Division.

Piedmont looked bad in defeat, in fact they reminded many of clubs in the past that had fallen apart when they faced Pittsburg.

The Highlanders started the season strong as they rolled up a lopsided score in practice tilts.

☆ ☆ ☆

THEY HAD formerly been in the Alameda County Athletic League, long considered the best in the area. The ACAL has deteriorated in the last couple of years and the power has been swinging more and more to Contra Costa County.

Piedmont can probably testify to that. Their troubles came whenever they invaded Contra Costa County. The speed-laden senior club from Piedmont first ran into trouble when they lost to Alhambra High at Martinez in a practice tilt.

Then they had to come from behind to defeat San Ramon at Danville. In fact, they were badly outplayed the first two quarters and trailed at the half.

They met Acalanes when they were at a low personnel and even then had their problems in the early stages of the game, although they did roll to a 25-0 win when the Dons ran out of gas.

The Las Lomas crew certainly were at their best last Friday night, and they capped a fine season with their most decisive win.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE COACHES, headman George DeKlotz and assistant Duane Lewis, along with the team, are certainly to be congratulated.

The full house put money in the coffers to help pay off the lights and the fans present certainly got their money's worth.

The Knights, under DeKlotz, have compiled an enviable record. In four years of play they have lost but three league games—two to Pittsburg and one to Acalanes.

That's good going in any league.

THERE WAS only one league game played last Friday night as the Acalanes - Miramonte game was canceled due to the work of vandals who invaded and burnt the sign on the Miramonte campus a week ago Wednesday.

Those who committed the act certainly must feel that they accomplished something big.

They canceled out the Junior Varsity game as well—that surely must make them big stuff in their own twisted way of thinking.

The disappointing thing is that they didn't have the courage to come forward when asked to in order to get the matter straightened out so that the game could have been played.

☆ ☆ ☆

THOSE WHO DID it were definitely connected with Acalanes—those things are difficult to keep secret over a period of time.

The players on both teams were penalized as they didn't get to play after lots of work and preparation.

It's too bad that the "tough guys" involved couldn't meet the team on the field. It seems to be a law of nature that there is always an element that doesn't think very straight and feels that they owe nothing to anyone other than themselves.

They can't understand themselves, so how can anyone else?

To them to do the right thing is to be weak. You must always show defiance of authority and to tell the truth is a sin.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE GROUP MUST be in Seventh Heaven—may they enjoy it while they can.

A psychologist would probably tell us that they were denied something in their early youth or disciplined too severely and that such acts are their means of getting even.

I just wonder if the parents of those involved knew who they were or cared—it isn't the first act of vandalism for those involved, and unfortunately for society it won't be the last.

Somebody obviously missed the boat somewhere along the line. The fortunate thing is that they represent a very small percentage of the student body with emphasis on the SMALL.

Unbeaten Matador Team Takes Title

The Miramonte Matadors Cross Country team was undefeated when it entered the Foothill Division Cross Country race November 6 and they stayed undefeated as they ran their way to the league title.

Running over a 1.9 course at Contra Costa Junior College, the Matadors came up with 30 points with San Ramon next with 59. Acalanes with 64 and Piedmont with 76 finished in that order.

Miramonte's Dixon Farmer coasted to first place as he stopped the clocks at 10:17 while teammate Jeff Neighbor outlasted Piedmont's Gary Chaney for second. Neighbor's time was 10:25 and Chaney's 10:29.

Pheasant Season Opens Today; Get Your Tags Now

"Do your pheasant tag shopping early!"

That's the word from the California Department of Fish and Game, which today reminded hunters that the new bright yellow 1958 tags are now available at all license dealers.

The best way to avoid long lines and nervous tension is to get your tags early, the DFG pointed out.

And buy them near home.

Many a last-minute Joe who waits until he gets to the hunting area before buying his tags finds himself in a frantic night-before-the-opener rush when the only agent in 20 miles puts up a "sold out" sign.

This year's tags are a new model, with adhesive backing, like the auto license plate tabs.

They sell for the same price as last year, $2.

Pheasant season is today to November 30 in most of the state.

Professor Picks Knights In Look-Ahead for 1959

By SOSS OPPLE

The old Professor predicts that Las Lomas will be the team to beat in the Foothill Division in football, come the 1959 season.

All clubs lose a host of players via the graduation route and while things will level out a lot, Las Lomas wears the crown and will be the club to beat if you are to win the title.

The Knights wound up their season last Friday as they draw to a bye in their week's play.

Acalanes and Miramonte swing into action tonight after their game was canceled out last week due to vandalism.

The Dons host San Ramon, who also rested last week but for another reason—they drew a bye.

THE DONS HOST the Wolves at Acalanes Memorial Field and it could be one of the season's best. It's out on the limb again—Acalanes 20, San Ramon 13.

The other Foothill League game finds Piedmont taking it out on Miramonte — the Highlanders wind up in second place in league standings by racking Miramonte, 42-7.

Pleasant Hill tackles its arch-foe, Pacifica, and make it the best season yet as they nail the Spartans, 26-13.

The Pleasant Hill eleven gave champion Diablo a go of it two weeks ago when they held them to a tie.

SINCE THEN they whipped Antioch and Pacifica will have more than they can handle as they head for the cellar.

Pittsburg meets Antioch and they will be closer than most suspect—it's still Pitt, but close—20-19.

In collegiate circles Stanford seconds on the clock. The paper they drop a 21-8 decision to the Oregon State Beavers.

California smells roses as they flex their newly acquired muscles and smite Washington gently, 20-14.

Washington State invades Stockton and settles the Tigers. It's Washington State, 20-16.

The 49ers play Detroit, and, believe it or not, win 29-21. It's in the script.

Burdett Winner Of Bass Derby

A $500 bond, grand prize in the Martinez bass derby, was awarded B. L. Burdett, 944 Mt. View Drive, Lafayette, at a Sportsman's Club dinner in Martinez.

Burdett is the operator of Burdett's Broadway Shell Service in Walnut Creek.

Pleasant Hill Rams Ram Antioch by 13-7 Score

The Pleasant Hill Rams capitalized on opportunities and put on a hard-nosed defense to defeat Antioch in a 13-7 game played at Concord last Friday night.

In fact, the Ram defensive team held Antioch scoreless until the final minute and a half of the game.

Halfback Roger Leonard was the Rams big offensive gun as he scored both TDs.

Pleasant Hill's first touchdown came in the second quarter after the first period had passed with neither club crossing the goal line.

IN THE SECOND period of play Antioch drove to the Ram territory and then passed, which backfired when quarterback Jim Maples intercepted on the 15 and ran it back to Antioch's 40. A series of plays brought the ball to Antioch's 8 from where Leonard scored.

Fullback Roger Foulk drove over the middle of the line for the extra point.

The Pleasant Hill crew went on the march again in the third quarter.

Starting on their own 35 they went to Antioch's two in five plays and Leonard cracked over guard for the big six.

Another punch at the line failed on the conversion try.

ANTIOCH HIT the scoreboard in the final quarter with but 90 seconds on the clack. The paper city eleven took to the air with quarterback Marv Schneider connecting on a pair of passes good for 8 and 29 yards to put the ball on the Ram 8-yard line.

Rudy Viramontes kicked the conversion point on the third try. The first two were misses but he received "new life" twice due to penalty calls.

The Rams dominated the statistics as they rolled to 15 to 8 in the first down department. They netted 276 yards to Antioch's 134.

All of it came on the ground for Pleasant Hill as they tried but two passes and both were incomplete.

Antioch hit on 4 for 11 to post 64 yards through the air.

20 pounds lighter and 20 years younger . . .

because I discovered

Eileen Feather

Mrs. Amelia Ehmke of Berkeley, Calif., with one of her seven grandchildren. Weight: 131. Dress Size: 15.

Mrs. Ehmke after three months at the Eileen Feather Salon. Weight: 108. Dress Size: 9.

MRS. EHMKE HAD A FIGURE PROBLEM

With my children grown and being a grandmother seven times over, I thought I was past the age of ever having a trim and shapely figure again. I had allowed myself to get in the rut of "thinking old." I had always loved to dance and wear pretty clothes, but the excess inches round my waistline and upper back gradually made these things less enjoyable to me.

A SPEED-UP PROGRAM FROM EILEEN FEATHER

A month before my vacation I saw a dress I really wanted. I was very disappointed when I found it wouldn't begin to fit. I went to Eileen Feather and she designed a special program for me. In just three weeks I lost over three inches on my upper back, several inches on my waistline and arms. The dress fit perfectly. Eileen Feather really proved to me that you are only as old as you allow yourself to become.

MRS. EHMKE HAD A FIGURE PROBLEM

After my vacation I went on to take my full figure correction. I lost over twenty pounds and more than 31 inches in measurements. My "trouble-spots" of upper back, arms and waistline not only came down in inches, but were shaped, tightened and firmed so wonderfully. So many of my friends have told me that I look twenty years younger. I know I feel it. And I love being a size 9 again.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

Things were "jumping" at the V. G. Theuriet home on Muller Road, Walnut Creek, Friday night when Ronnie—one of the three Theuriet boys—entertained a group of his teen-age friends for an evening of dancin' and eatin'.

A similar affair was held at the William Coffey home in Pleasant Hill with young Steve as host.

Still in the teen-age class—a large, LARGE group of Westminster C. E. guys and gals from the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church gathered Sunday night at the Jack Wilson home in Pleasant Hill where, despite softly falling rain, they played any number of games then roasted wieners—camp-out style—and devoured quantities of salads, chips and such.

Here we go with the small fry

Younger children make news, too. Vivian and Bill Roberts helped their six year old daughter, Megan, celebrate her birthday by taking her and five friends (with young brother Doug in tow) to spend Sunday afternoon at "Fairyland." Ann (Mrs. Frank) Carter squired a group of children from the "Pied Piper Nursery School" to a farm in Danville where they spent some happy, happy hours observing and playing with the farm animals. Ann's daughter, Kathy, was one of the group.

And then there were Barbara and Cathy Campbell, aged seven and five respectively, who invited all of their Reliez Valley playmates to a Halloween party in the Don Campbell garage which was "decked out" in spooky style.

The party—a typical old fashioned "apple-bob" affair preceded an evening of trick-or-treating. The girls' mother, Billie, reported that she and Don probably had more fun than anyone.

That seems to cover the "children's corner" for today.

No blooms, but lovely gardens

The lovely home of Mrs. Marguerite West of Lafayette was the setting for the Cardinal Unit's membership tea last Tuesday. The cascading chrysanthemums which Mrs. West has displayed so magnificently for years were only in the bud stage, much to the disappointment of all.

However, the members and guests enjoyed wandering through her beautiful gardens as well as a home made ever so charming with many rare antiques. Tea and sandwiches were served after which Mrs. Herb Phillips, president, opened the regular business meeting.

Guests invited were the Mmes. Robert Blester, William Kinney, Howard Thiele, John Sandman, William Harper and Paul Daly who recently moved to our area from Santa Rosa.

Music and gaiety sounded from every nook and corner of the Jack Jackson home in Walnut Creek on a recent Saturday night. A Halloween party it was with the many guests arriving in costimes—and beautiful ones there were. The hosts, Dotty and Jack were exotic native Hawaiians. There were "can-can" girls, Cubans and many, many others—but one of the most outstanding regalias was Indian in character and was worn by Mrs. Frank Allgood.

And another costume dinner . . .

On the same night a "Schooner Fleet Dinner" was held at the Presbyterian Church in Walnut Creek—again with all attending costumed. The darkened hall was hung with fluorescent skeletons and other weird objects and during dinner moaning ghosts wended their way among the tables. Later in the evening a group of talented members presented the "Ghostly Gaieties"—a real THRILLER! The stage was "cemetery-ish" with names of members of "Mariners" (the church's older fleet) inscribed upon many tombstones. Among other acts there was a ghost raising and following the show, Fran Eitzel as a most authentic witch, gathered the most outstandingly costumed spectators into a kind of congo-line which paraded as a finale.

Noticed here and there in the large crowd were Gwen and Jim Upshaw, June and Art Webb, Muriel and Dick Chiolis, Doris and Paul Graham, Jackie and Dick Leach, Clara and Sam Himes, Betty and Nelson Burrin, the Jack Wilsons and the Ron Standrings.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Cherrington of Lafayette celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Tuesday at a reception where they were honored by over 150 friends, guests and neighbors.

Members of each unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center have been working and planning since last January for the Center's "Christmas Gift Box" which will open in the Broadway Shopping Center November 24. With activity at its peak — members of the pricing committee gathered at my home Thursday morning for the final pricing of items which had not before been presented to them.

SUCH items they were, too! There were the most luscious, dainty cocktail aprons, gorgeous door swags, felt, apliqued stockings, jewelry, ceramics — so many goodies, 'tis hard to remember. NOT hard to remember, 'though, is the Merry-go-Round made by Bev Curtis, Nancy Southard and Audrey Gordon. White and sparkling, about the size (and looking a bit like) of a large wedding cake, resplendant with a gay canopy and mounted with the most intriguing jeweled animals — it is truly a delightful thing to see.

Now it's mink coats, yet

Then — for the little girl who has everything — a full-length doll's coat of MINK! What next! Irvine (Mrs. Jack) Kennedy of the Starlings is in charge of the all-unit project this year with Connie Goldeen and Bev Curtis sharing assistant chairman duties. Some of the other "business-bent" ladies who helped with the difficult job of deciding upon prices were Vawn Tolles, Barbara Kuhn, Ardith Lazzareschi, Evelyn Fletcher and the Mmes. Dan and Gene Arena.

Vawn and King Tolles have a brand new and tiny (five pounds) granddaughter — Lorrie Lynn Whiffen — such a whimsical name.

Lorrie decided to arrive three weeks early and things were a bit frantic for her parents, the Hank Whiffens, for a few days — but all is well now. Vawn spent several days with them in Provo, Utah but is home and busy again with her duties with the Diablo Garden Club, of which she is president, and with the Robin Unit.

A lavish and practical selection

We certainly jumped from Halloween news to Christmas — did you attend the "Christmas Gift Prevue" presented by the Diablo Mills Club (alumni) at the Walnut Creek Elks Club? They tell me that this second annual affair was a "smasher." The spirit of Christmas prevailed in the decor — especially gay were the many tables upon which lunch was served.

Tea was served throughout the afternoon and into the evening hours when many husbands joined their wives — can't you just imagine the hinting? Some ladies attending were the Mmes. Scott Ramsden, Richard Bartle, John Goldeen, Richard Lieber, Jerry Werlan, William Grenewald, Phyllis Simmons and Barbara Hall.

Many local stores displayed a wondrous selection of lavish, as well as practical gifts.

Cherringtons Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cherrington, 958 Hough Avenue, Lafayette, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday.

They were honored at a reception to which 150 guests, old friends and neighbors, had been invited. It was held Monday evening at the home of a son, D. C. Cherrington, 862 Birdhaven Court, Lafayette.

Three sons, three daughters, and 13 grandchildren attended the reception. In addition, the Cherringtons have three great-grandchildren.

Their sons and daughters are D. C. Cherrington, H. C. Cherrington of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Elsie Brown of Berkeley, Irwin Cherrington of San Francisco, Mrs. Aurtance Prestwich of Sacramento, and Mrs. Vivian Eklund of Martinez.

The senior Cherringtons were married in Driggs, Idaho, and moved to Oakland in 1924. Now retired, he is a former Safeway auditor. They established a home in Lafayette 12 years ago.

A very welcome newcomer in Lorraine and Richard Olson's home is little Claudie Ann. Her BIG two year old brother is delighted with her too. A group of Lorraine's friends surprised her the other night by arriving (and catching her in pedal pushers) laden with gifts and refreshments. The party was co-hostessed by Ann (Mrs. David) Penna and "Mugs" (Mrs. Harold) Vincent. Guests were the Mmes. John Bell, Howard Burk, Sal Caruso, R. W. Curtis, Robert Fugazi, Jack Gordon, Lloyd Lekse, Richard Lieber, John Mozzetti, Robert Patrick, Robert Ramelli, Robert Schroeder, Lloyd Smith, Clayton Southard, Raymond Williams, Robert Swithenbank, Leo Keany and David Kepler.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY, a crippling and often fatal disease which attacks children, mostly, is being fought by county and national agencies which have launched fund drives. In Contra Costa, a patient service program is being conducted. Left to right are Central Fire District Capt. Jack Hill, patients Mildred Hatten and Tim McCoy and Community Chairman Bob Schroder.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Starts Throughout County

Plans are under way to recruit a record number of volunteers for the county 1958 "March for Muscular Dystrophy" in November, according to Naomi L. Holm, president of the Contra Costa County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc.

This muscle-wasting disease has afflicted over 200,000 Americans. Among them 26 patients are right here in our own community, she said.

Some of these are able to attend part time school, but others are completely helpless.

The disease is a progressive one which eventually weakens and wastes the muscles and turns them into fat or fibrous tissue she added.

Children are being helped by the patient service program. Through this program all patients in need are provided with wheelchairs, lifts, transportation to and from therapy centers and clinics, schools and vocational centers.

They are, also, aided by recreational outings, summer campership and diagnostic fees, Mrs. Holm said.

Dr. Paul Fraser of Richmond, campaign chairman, has "started the ball rolling" and is being aided by all the fire departments in Contra Costa County.

Ken Harris, county chairman of Concord; Assistant Chief Allen Windsor of Orinda, Captains John Hill and Frank Walden of Pleasant Hill, Chief Bill Nottingham and Captains George Walden and Forrest Wilson of Walnut Creek and Chief Robert Winkel of Lafayette have recruited their men for placing canisters in convenient spots within the county.

"When you see one of these canisters, stop and contribute. You will know then that you have a part of the great drive to stamp out muscular distrophy and that you have aided in bringing hope and comfort to many otherwise doomed patients," Mrs. Holm said.

"Roger Jernigan of Walnut Creek, executive secretary of Muscular Dystrophy has been organizing community groups. However, we still need volunteer help and marchers for the November campaign. If you can give of your time, please contact Mr. Jernigan," she concluded.

Exchange Students Help Create Understanding

The two exchange students attending Acalanes this year clearly illustrate how the American Field Service program functions to create understanding and friendship between distant and diverse countries.

Tove Hefte is from Trondheim, Norway, the third largest city in Norway, and within 200 miles of the Arctic Circle. She is making her home this year with the Paul S. Walters family at 1154 Roderick Court. Toby, as she is called by her classmates, has two "sisters," Diane and Martha Walters, who also attend Acalanes.

IN TRONDHEIM Toby lived with her father, mother, 15 year old brother and six year old sister. Her father is an actor on the stage. Her mother is a fashion model, who also gives courses in modeling. Toby, who is 17, has attended the "gymnasium" for one year and will take two more years after her return to Norway next summer.

Upon graduation she plans to attend the University of Oslo. There she will study languages, especially English for four years, and has had some French and German.

Toby says she finds Acalanes much more difficult than she had expected a high school in the United States to be. As a senior she is taking Senior Problems, U. S. history, English, clothing and physical education. In Norway students are not allowed to choose their subjects. Although they go to school six days a week from 8:30 to 2 o'clock, they do not take each subject every day.

AS FOR OTHER phases of Norwegian life, Toby says that everyone skis and all of the girls knit sweaters, socks, caps and dresses. They are allowed to knit during classes when writing is not required. The gayest day of the year is St. Hans Day, which comes on June 24, the longest day of the year. In Trondheim this day of celebration has 23 hours of daylight.

Jusuf Ismail's home, in contrast to Toby's Northland home, is at Makasser, on the island of South Sulawesi, Indonesia, and just south of the equator. He is one of eight brothers and sisters. His father is a merchant. Jusuf, "Joe" to his classmates, lives at the Jack Noble home, 3649 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, and attends Acalanes with the two Noble boys, Mike, a senior, and Pete, a sophomore. Joe graduated from the Indonesian high school last spring and is taking additional work in English, U. S. history and the sciences.

Before school began, Joe spent much time listening to the radio to augment his three years of English study, and to become accustomed to rapid English conversation. But special effort in the study of English is not a new experience to Joe.

Last year he started an International Relations Club in his school, formed to learn about other countries, to practice conversation in English and to hear lectures given entirely in English. This club work is being led this year by one of Joe's good friends, who attended high school in Connecticut last year under the student exchange program.

JOE FINDS his school work here much more difficult than he had expected. He thinks that American high school students are more mature and work harder than American movies had led him to believe. He feels our movies give an untrue and poor picture of our young people. In Indonesia, students attend school six days a week, from 7:30 to 1 p.m.

Since no homework is required, an American student has a longer work week than an Indonesian student. He also finds more rigid restrictions and regulations at Acalanes. In Indonesia a student may skip daily classes without penalty, if he prepares himself well for the examinations.

However, since parents must pay the government direct tuition, most students fell an obligation to their parents to attend classes. About 40 per cent of the children finish elementary school, while a smaller percentage graduate from high school.

Joe finds the classes interesting. He likes the physical education classes, particularly football, which is new to him. He regrets that his favorite sport, badminton is not included.

Joe finds much here that is new to him. The tall buildings, the intricate system of freeways, the many cars, and the bay bridges were surprising. The kitchen appliances are a contrast to an Indonesian kitchen. He finds the food very strange, some of it not tasty, much of it delicious. He is not yet used to bread and potatoes rather than rice, meat instead of fish, and the many new vegetables and fruits. He misses the mangoes and durian fruit of Indonesia.

He especially appreciates the kindeness and considerateness of his family here in helping him with new situations. He enjoys the friendly, informal relation between parents and children.

"Here," he says, "the kids are free to talk with their parents and to explain their problems." He also feels that the students at Acalanes are friendly and always willing to help.

WC Schools Win Safety Honors For Sixth Year

For the sixth consecutive year, the Walnut Creek Schools have received certificates of Exceptional Merit and have been placed on the National School Safety Honor Roll of the National Safety Council, Sheldon Rankin, District Superintendent, announced today.

Murwood school received its first award, Walnut Creek School its third, Buena Vista, Parkmead and Walnut Heights their sixth awards.

"We are proud of our safety education program and are pleased that the National Safety Council has again recognized our efforts," Rankin said.

At any event Christmas Cargoes will be November 18 to 23 at the Oakland Auditorium Ballroom, so make your Christmas list out now and visit Christmas Cargoes for a fun-filled week of Christmas adornments, decorations, toys, and gifts," said Mrs. Frank Young, Contra Costa chairman.

Since Christmas Cargoes is a benefit to The Legal Aid Society everyone connected with the event is working on a volunteer basis. Contra Costa County can take the credit for the Diablo Junior Museum Auxiliary will staff all booths on Tuesday, November 18.

Frasers of Berkeley will feature imported gifts and supervising this booth is Mrs. Charles David of Happy Valley, and Phare's booth featuring imported food and wines will be handled by Mrs. Pierce Milton of Happy Valley.

Superb Food Lovely Decor ForGourmets

By THE DINER

What's more fun than eating good food! Dining out is fun for everyone in the family . . . especially Mom. With the Holidays approaching — getting the house ready — doing Christmas Shopping — take the family out at least once a week — and select the food of your choice at one of the fine restaurants on this page.

One of the world's smartest chuckwagons is in Walnut Creek. Wagon-Ho attracts more celebrated customers than any chuckwagon I know of. John Crosetti and Joe Bernardi have hosted a number of Giants and 49'ers and as for the blue-chip names in the Contra Costa County Register . . . this is a family dining-out headquarters.

PRIME RIBS, roasted with tender, loving care, worthy of the finest choice beef that money can buy is on the daily menu at Wagon-Ho. And John and Joe are already scouting the country for Thanksgiving turkeys to get the finest for you!

If you haven't been to Larry Blake's Gaslight House on Bonanza Street in Walnut Creek . . . you've missed a thrill! The decor is exciting, the service supreme and the food is excellent . . . can I say more? Last Wednesday I had Beef Strogonoff . . . superb! Last Saturday night after the Cal-UCLA game Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jansse of Orinda hosted a party of six friends from Sacramento.

There were numerous other after-the-game groups including Mr. and Mrs. Volney Howard and their party of six. Thanksgiving reservations are coming thick and fast and family style dinners featuring turkey carved at your table will be the vogue.

IS THERE ANYONE who does not, at times, have a longing for food that is different? Some of the finest Chinese food I have ever enjoyed came from The Orient on Mt. Diablo in Lafayette.

Bing Louie presides in the spotless kitchen and prepares an almost unending variety of Chinese foods in true Oriental style . . . for you to eat there or for you to take out. When I called on him this week he was constantly interrupted taking orders . . . and had little time to talk to me.

And right in line with this idea of different types of food, the busiest place I visited was Milt Nelson's La Fonda Mexican Restaurant in Lafayette. He was beaming over his late . . . late party policy.

He now serves every Friday and Saturday until 3 a.m. After 2 a.m. Uncle Miltie, through toasting, continues hosting many Tunnel Strip notables and restaurateurs namely, Larry Blake, Don Thompson, Danny Van Allen and Morris Anger with the El Nido crew.

JONSON'S, POPULAR family eatery in Lafayette featuring steaks and chicken, has about completed remodeling their dining room and will soon open it to the public.

In the meantime they are catering to parties up to 100 persons. Warren and Chuck have also installed a new piano bar for Friday and Saturday night entertainment.

The new and beautiful Walnut Room at Mel's Drive-In is proving to be a popular night spot. Since Mel's is open 24 hours, the dining section is the scene of many a late rendezvous. Ray Tatum, well known on the Lafayette Strip; Roger Chase, formerly of Paul's in Martinez and Jim Degan, formerly at Stan's Brick House are greeting many old friends at the beautiful Walnut Bar.

"VAMOS AL RANCHO GRANDE" is the latest suggestion from gourmets of fine Mexican food. Although only a month old, Rancho Grande, located at 1133 South Main Street, directly adjacent to the Diablo Club in Walnut Creek, has become a favorite dining spot for many in the Walnut Creek area.

"Lupita" Munoz, cook for the proud proprietors, supplies the delicious Mexican dishes, specializing in tacos, enchiladas, chili rellenos and guacamole.

Under the ownership of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Olvera and Mrs. Lupe Sanchez, the entire staff serves the public with an unusual family dinner on the premises or to take out.

YEAR'S END OFFICE parties, most of them on Saturday nights, are beginning at Paul's in Martinez, with nearly a dozen already scheduled for November and December. The first occurred last Saturday night when nearly 100 office personnel of Columbia-Geneva Division of U.S. Steel held their annual get-together.

Tomorrow night, between 60 and 70 members of the Contra Costa County Horsemen's Association will hold their annual dinner at Paul's, with Frank Pereira of Briones Valley handling the arrangements.

The Concord Community Hospital Auxiliary has set its annual Christmas party for December 6.

Emil Villas Walnut Creek Barbecue Pit has sets its formal grand opening for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (254:10):

"When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth righteously, He directs our path. Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to begin aright and to continue the strife of demonstrating the great problem of being, is doing much."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:5): "They that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit."

Valley Art Center Will Hold Membership Party

With the theme, "Les Bohemes," Valley Art Center will hold its annual membership party tomorrow at the American Legion Hall in Lafayette.

The atmosphere and motif of the "left bank" will dominate. A buffet dinner will begin at 7 p.m. The guests are invited to carry out the theme in dress.

High light of the evening will be the exhibit of paintings, ceramics, sculpture and mosaics of the members. "Sunday painters" and professionals alike will display.

Mrs. John Martsolf, exhibition chairman, has received many contributions. The various media will be displayed by each artist. Mrs. Richard Ward, social chairman, is in charge of planning the dinner and hostessing. She has been assisted in the food arrangements by the Mesdames Forrest Baker and Howard Holmes. Mrs. Robert Stratton will welcome guests at the door.

There will be the yearly election of officers. Rental paintings from the gallery will be available for Thanksgiving or Christmas decorating.

Dr. John Furbay To Lecture At Tuesday Forum

Dr. John Harvey Furbay will lecture at the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum on Tuesday. "He is "billed" as America's top interpreter of the Air Age.

Dr. Furbay is director of Trans World Airlines cultural and educational program and his position, which covers 25 countries on four continents, has won the sobriquet of "The Non-Stop Airborne Orator".

The multi-dimensional background of the speaker includes a Ph.D. from Yale, study at other American universities, the Sorbonne in Paris and the position of president of the College of West Africa.

The lecture Dr. Furbay will present is entitled "Let's Join the Human Race." Mass travel for Americans is certain and Dr. Furbay will urge the American traveler to acquire a genuine appreciation of other countries, their histories, philosophies and their contributions to world cultures.

Mrs. John Blemer, coordinator of the Forum, has named her assistants for the morning program. They include Mrs. Robert Bartlett, tickets; Mrs. George Towle, hostess at the coffee hour; Mrs. Chester Hook and Mrs. Clifford Foskett at the ticket baskets; Mrs. Clifton Moore, decorations, and Mrs. Stanley Friden, introduction of the speaker.

Programs of the Forum, which meets at the Diablo Country Club, are open to the public. Tickets may be obtained at the door the morning of the lecture. Tickets include coffee at 10 a.m., followed by the program at 10:30.

Deputy Marshal Job is Opening

Contra Costa County announced today that the Civil Service Commission is currently accepting applications for deputy marshal, $414 to $496.

Th position requires completion of the twelfth grade and one year of experience as a bailiff, process server or police officer. County residence is waived for this position.

Liberal employee benefits include three weeks paid vacation, sick leave, retirement plan and health plan.

Application should be made not later than next Friday to Contra Costa County Civil Service Department, P.O. Box 710, Martinez.

Contractors Hear Minto On 'Standards'

Daniel Minto, recently-appointed director of the San Francisco office of the Federal Housing Administration, spoke to members of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County yesterday at the El Nido Restaurant, Lafayette.

Subjects of concern to the home building industry include the minimum property standards that are to replace the minimum property requirements of FHA early next year, and the "Agreement to Insure" which was effective October 16, replaced the FHA committment except where there is a buyer applicant, Jack Eyman, association president, said.

George Concannon, chairman of the association membership committee, outlined the fall membership campaign of the association.

Eyman recently returned from the second annual Mid-Pacific Housing Conference in Hawaii November 3-6. He will discuss the highlights of the meeting.

Women's Division To Hear Professor

The next luncheon meeting of the Women's Division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board will be held November 26.

Guest speaker will be Paul Wendt, Professor of Economics at the University of California.

Wendt has recently returned from eight months in Europe studying housing policies of Sweden, Germany and many other countries. He will give a first-hand report on his findings.

PTA's To Hear TV Evaluation

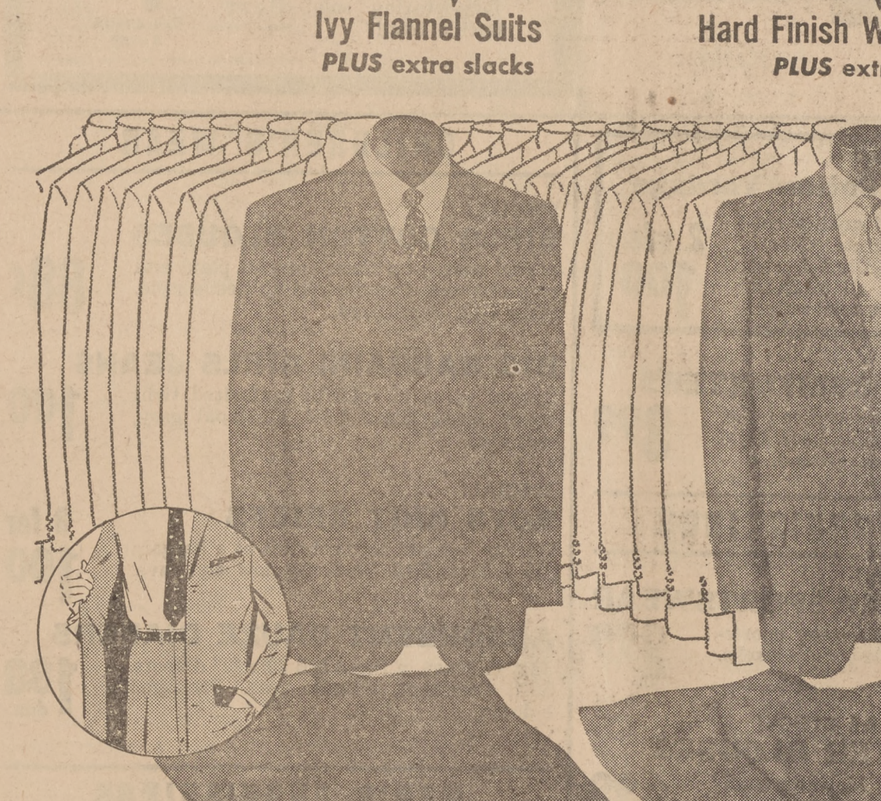
Educational television, occasionally hailed as a panacea for bulging classrooms, will be evaluated by an authority when the 32nd District, PTA assembles November 24 to hear James Day, general manager of KQED.

The 11 a.m. talk, to be given in Hillcrest School, Rodeo, will be open to the public after a 9:45 a.m. business session at which Mrs. Robert T. Adams of Lafayette, 32nd District president, will preside.

HEART

The distributor is the heart of your car. Make sure that the points are cleaned often and the part is in good mechanical and electrical order. The next time you are stalled you may well wish that you had.

Drive carefully. Many of our roads wind through the hills, and there are many small children playing in the area. An accident could be tragic.



MEMBERS OF Orinda Beautification Committee recently took hike along Village Bypass to discuss plans for planting area both to improve its appearance and control erosion. Art Association Meet is Slated

The November general meeting of the Cooperative Art Association will be Wednesday, 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Bernard Rocca, 3829 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette.

Film Is Shown

"So You Like to Ski," a 45 minute color and sound film, was shown at the Mt. Diablo Ski Club's "kick-off" meeting November 5.

Adoption Group Hears Talk on Unwed Mother

At the meeting of the Diablo Adoption Auxiliary Wednesday the topic was "The Unwed Mother and Her Baby."

Several statistical surveys of unwed mothers by Clark E. Vincent, assistant professor of Family Socioilogy at the University of California, was used by Mrs. Jack Lynch of Walnut Creek, president.

The Auxiliary is a volunteer organization of women interested in children, and in adoption as a community need and service.

At a recent meeting, the group, which works closely with the Adoption Unit, Contra Costa County Social Service Department, heard a report by Miss Muriel Nelson, supervisor. Since its inception eight years ago, the County Unit has placed over 400 children, she said.

Guests welcomed at this meeting included Mrs. Robert Andrews and Mrs. Paul Epperson of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Melvin of Danville and Mrs. David McClintic and Mrs. Mervin Lehman of Concord.

Women interested in the Auxiliary or its work or purposes are invited to call Mrs. Lynch or Mrs. Hagerstrand or to come to the meeting.

Questions about adoption may be addressed to "Question and Answer Service," P.O. Box 44, Lafayette. Any such questions will be answered as authoritatively as possible, and in complete confidence, said Mrs. Lynch.

Wilson's Final Meeting to be December 3

County Schools Superintendent B. O. Wilson has called his last annual meeting of governing board members, a farewell in anticipation of his retirement in January, at Sid's Place in Concord on December 3.

The annual meeting, which is required by state law, will also serve as the "inaugural" of the new county superintendent, Dr. Floyd I. Marchus.

Invitations will be sent to the 150 members of local school boards, the County Board of Education and school administrators.

A dinner at 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting.

Support your community. Join your local improvement group and read The Sun to keep up with the news. Do your part to see that this is a better place for you and your children to live.

Soroptimists to Award Student Scholarship

The Soroptimist Club of Lafayette - Orinda at its recent monthly business meeting, voted to allocate money from the service fund for various projects.

The sum of $850 will be used for a nursing scholarship to be awarded to a student of Acalanes High School of Lafayette, or of Miramonte High School of Orinda.

The student selected will be a girl with outstanding scholastic qualifications and the desire to further her career in nursing at a nursing school.

An allocation of $100 was voted to purchase a charter membership in the Soroptimist Federation Foundation, to be administered by a Board of five Trustees who will investigate and recommend service studies and projects.

Here's a Baby Sitter Manual

The Do's and Don'ts for baby-sitters were outlined last week, at a meeting of children.

The program was sponsored by Junior Women, whose members are discussing the possibility of holding more such meetings at other schools in the near future.

Officer Harry Day told The Sun that parents and baby-sitters both would profit by clipping out and keeping the basic outline of his talk, which might avoid a tragedy in the future.

HIS TALK WAS as follows:

"Your job as a baby-sitter is to assume full responsibility for the safety and welfare of your employer's children," Day said.

"Prepare yourself for this very important job by obtaining as much information as you can.

"Do not become so preoccupied in radio, television, or your studies that you neglect checking frequently or watching the child. The child may become sick or get hurt without creating a noise, so check at frequent intervals even though everything seems quiet.

"WHEN YOUNGSTERS ARE awake, do not leave them unsupervised even for a few moments. If the child plays outside, you should stay with him at all times, watching to see that he does not run out into the street.

"If the child rides a tricycle or other wheeled toy, make sure he rides in a safe place. Never allow youngsters to play in the street.

"If it becomes necessary to go to a store or some place away from the home, be sure you have permission from the parent, and then be very careful walking with the child, who may pull away and run out in front of a car.

"Always use crosswalks when crossing streets; be alert to oncoming traffic; allow plenty of time to cross. Use sidewalks; if no sidewalk, walk against traffic.

"Under no circumstances should you leave the premises of your employer unless you are properly relieved of your duties.

"If you are a minor, be sure that your parents approve of your employment and know where to reach you and what time you expect to return home.

"ARRANGE FOR MEANS of transportation to and from your employer's home.

1. On arriving at a home where you are going to baby-sit, the first thing to do is to obtain from the parents information as to where and how they can be contacted in case of an emergency. Obtain the following information—name and address where you are; name, address and phone number of where they are going; when they will be at above location and what time they will return.

2. Obtain and write down the following telephone numbers—Sheriff's Department, Fire Department, Doctor, Hospital.

3. Ask where the necessary items are which you will need for the child's care, location of telephone, how to use the appliances properly. Check all doors and windows to see if they are properly locked.

"IN CASE OF FIRE—Get children out of house, Leave doors closed, Call fire department, Don't go back in.

"In case of sickness or accident, always try to notify parents. If not sure of what to do, call your Sheriff's department. Call the doctor.

"If you notice someone around the yard or standing and watching the house for some time or maybe sitting in a car parked nearby and watching the house, call the police department, stay on the phone, give them your name, the address where you are and the phone number from where you are calling.

"If some strange noise bothers you inside or outside the house, it is best to call your Sheriff's department.

"THE SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES may not come directly to the house when you call them about suspicious circumstances or prowlers, but will check the area around the neighborhood and house before coming to the door to contact you. If you are unable to see who is at the door, ask before opening it.

"Under no circumstances open the door to strangers, even though they claim to be friends of your employer or represent themselves to be employees of public communications or public utilities.

"Call your Sheriff's department if they do not leave right away."

Book Fair At Fairview To Raise Library Fund

Ted Collins, principal of Fairview School, has announced that a Book Fair will be held November 19 and 20 to raise funds for books for the library.

The Fair will be under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth A. Cady, librarian at Fairview, with the assistance of Mrs. Jack B. Cullen and Mrs. Don Laston. Fairview students in Daniel Sienes's art classes are making posters for display locally.

The Fair, which will be held in the school library, will coincide with the meeting of the Parents Club on the evening of November 19. The library will also be open all day November 19 and 20 for the convenience of the public.

Books may also be ordered by calling Mrs. Cady at AT 4-7046. A wide variety of books will be on sale, from picture books for preschoolers to cook books and the latest novels. All books will be delivered in ample time for Christmas giving.

At present there are less books in the library than students in the school. Classes have one library period each four weeks and students may borrow one book which may be kept only one week. Because of the shortage of books they may not be renewed.

It is hoped that the Book Fair, sponsored by the Parents Club, will raise enough money to add to a fine future library collection. Fairview School is located on Merriewood Drive in Burton Valley and the community is urged to come and see the new school and attend the Book Fair.

Parents Club Meets Thursday

Sleepy Hollow School will hold the second Parents Club meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the multiple purpose room. Harry Ford, director of the department of Teacher Education at the California School of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, will be the speaker.

His topic will be "Art Education for the Elementary School Child." All parents of children at Sleepy Hollow are asked to attend. Mrs. Joe Conley will preside and officers' reports will be read.

Mothers Group Meets Monday

"Understanding Our Teenagers" will be discussed by Charles O'Shea at the meeting of the Miramonte Mothers, a branch of the Miramonte Parents Club, at 12:30 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. William Brobeck, 120 Sleepy Hollow Lane.

O'Shea is with the Guidance Department of Berkeley schools and the University of California.

Driver Control Attitudes Called 'Mass Insanity'

"The widespread but dormant public interest in greater highway safety must find its voice in political action, for without politics, true traffic safety is an academic illusion," the Lafayette Rotary Club, meeting at El Nido Restaurant, was told yesterday.

Myles W. Smith, Pacific Coast public relations director for the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, said that service clubs and other groups sincerely interested in saving lives, seem to think that traffic safety is "too lofty an ideal to be tainted with politics". Such a notion, he said, "does an injustice to the art of government and forfeits any chance for significant accident prevention progress.

"Politics is the way a society gets things done, and if we want less blood on the highways, we'd better get better at politics," the speaker warned.

SMITH SAID that to be successful in obtaining the laws and driver license administration "which any recognized traffic safety professional knows will cut down accidents, those who would champion this cause must make it a special interest project, the same as if it affected your own business."

It directly affects insurance companies and indirectly policyholders, Smith said. Even though auto insurance rates have risen since 1947, such increases have still been so inadequate that companies have had to pay out nearly 400 million dollars more than they earned during the same period, he said.

Smith predicted that such a drain could not continue. He said that "every senseless accident, every unnecessarily large court verdict, every padded and phony claim, every inordinately fancy automobile that gets banged up—all these, along with the legitimate claims, will be paid for by you through the rates you pay for insurance."

ADDITIONALLY, he said, the economic loss to the country for all accidents is seven and a quarter billion dollars a year, the same amount that 4,833,333 eight-thousand-dollars-per-year breadwinners would pay in federal income taxes.

"Aside from humanitarian values," Smith asked, "isn't this problem one of special interest to all of us?"

Describing our nation's past and present attitudes and actions in the control of drivers as "mass insanity", the speaker said we could have saved two thousand of the four thousand lives lost in California traffic last year, if the numerous traffic safety groups had shown as much "interest and political savvy" as

"1. The sportsmen who worry about the deer population.

"2. The pros and cons in any dog leash proposal in any community.

"3. The fishermen who willingly pay five dollars for the privilege of catching a hatchery-spawned trout."

SMITH TOLD Rotarians that the way to use politics effectively in achieving greater safety was:

1. Learn from the local safety council and the California Traffic Safety Foundation what proposals will be presented by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee to the Legislature, and which of these have the best chance of success.

2. Have one or more programs devoted to the study of these proposals so that members can speak intelligently on them. If you must fall back on a study committee, put your most competent men to work.

3. Assign a priority to the project of politics in traffic safety, "at least equal to the annual picnic, Christmas tree sale, or party for the outgoing president."

4. Forget about passing resolutions and have a committee of your most influential members appear in person at the appropriate time before the appropriate committee in the legislative process. "A legislator is not impressed with how many people raise their hands in a meeting. He is impressed when he sees them at a hearing or gets a letter written in the writer's own words that shows he knows what he wants and why."

Shooting Match Held by Cubs

Three dens from Lafayette's Cub Pack 220 were represented at the Woodland Hill residence of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Clark Sunday. Cubs from Den 5 met for a turkey shoot armed with bows and arrows and a .22 rifle.

The turkey was of the crayon on cardboard variety, with his eye representing the bullseye. Younger brothers from Dens 1 and 9 came along to give the boys some stiff competition.

The turkey's eye proved to be the safest place on the target. Closest to the mark with the bow and arrow was Stephen Chase, closely followed by Steven Clark, Bob Riner, Jim Elliot, Ernie Elliott and David Chase.

Jim Elliot captured the first award for marksmanship with the .22. Steven Clark was second, followed by Bob Riner, Stephen Chase, David Chase and Ernie Elliot.

Support your community. Join your local improvement group and read The Sun to keep up with the news. Do your part to see that this is a better place for you and your children to live.

WC Market Survey To Extend To Lafayette

A detailed "Market Survey" will be undertaken in the central county, including Lafayette and Orinda, next week by some 35 interviewers, retained by the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce, it was announced.

William Francis, secretary-manager, said the survey will include interviewing some 2300 households in 24 selected areas within Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Danville, Alamo, Concord, Pleasant Hill, Pacheco and Martinez.

The survey is being directed by Norris F. Pope of Diablo Valley College.

It is the largest survey project undertaken in the Central County Area and has been over two months in the planning stages, Francis said.

The survey questionnaire includes 35 specific questions and each interview will require 20 minutes.

The survey is designed to obtain information in the fields of retail, service and professional business, local government and general opinions.

The information is confidential and will not include the names nor addresses of those interviewed.

Eventual tabulations will chart shopping trends and habits, desires and opinions of the Central County consumers.

Francis said "Each trained interviewer will be recognized by a special badge issued by the Chamber and the cooperation of area residents is being asked to aid in producing a full value survey."

Acalanes Valley Notes

Announcement: Mario and Jean Valente are the proud parents of a baby girl, Michelle Jean, born a month ago. Nickolette, who is now five years old, and Suzanne, who is now three, are very excited over their baby sister.

After christening of Michelle Sunday, November 2, a reception was held at the Valente home. It seems to be a very busy household, with Mario working against time to put the curbs and gutters and blacktopping in his new subdivision so that the lots will be available for sale.

Anne and Bill Chilcote invited several friends to their home Sunday, November 2, for an evening of pot-luck and ballot proposition discussion.

THOSE ATTENDING were Harry and Cynthia Schwartz, Bob and Bebe March, Betty and Martin Lewis, Vivian and Bob Sturgeon, Oertel and Doug Roddick, Phyllis and George Irwin and Norm and Rose Hawkins. The evening was very fruitful with regard to everyone reaching a better understanding of the propositions on the ballot this year.

Attending the opening event of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra concert season were Martin and Betty Lewis, Minnie Lewis, Oertel and Doug Roddick, and Rose Hawkins. Jim Lewis gave a very creditable performance in the First Bassoon position with the orchestra, and is very excited about its new conductor, Piero Bellugi. After the concert a champagne reception was held at the Martin Lewis home.

Jim Lewis played clarinet at a faculty recital last Thursday, October 29, at Holy Names College, the numbers he was in being Brahms Clarinet Trio and Mozart Clarinet Trio. Minnie Lewis, his wife, and Betty Lewis, his sister-in-law, were there to enjoy the beautiful chamber music.

Rose Hawkins acted as moderator of a panel of seven traffic safety experts as a Town Hall Meeting on Traffic Safety sponsored by the Pleasant Hill PTA Thursday night, October 30.

DUANE BENOFSKY had a weekend campout at Stinson Beach with Boy Scout Troop 223.

Things have been quiet at the Dobson household on Legion Court due to illness in the family, but Ruth and Dudley made up for it Halloween trick-or-treating in the neighborhood with Kirk and Donna, then taking them to the Temescal parade in Oakland, and on to friends where they enjoyed their open house. They found that in that neighborhood the adults trick-or-treat till all hours.

Oertel and Doug Roddick entertained several friends and their children Halloween after the trick or treating.

Ruth Dobson received a postcard from Russia. Ruth's cousin's wife, Olia, and her 4½ year old daughter Polia, who make their home in Florida, are visiting Olia's family in her native Russia. Can anyone read the Russian postmark?

Home Dep't Will Meet Thursday

Inside Glenside

By BETTY NOACK

We hope that Glenside will have a 100 percent voting turnout on election day, Tuesday. Molly Hearns will be inspecor at the voting poll at the Dyer home on Los Palos and Jo Money will be inspector at the polls in the Money garage, also on Los Palos. Working on the election board with Jo are June Allen, Barbara Ball, Kay Fekete, Marion Metzler, and Sophie Rogers.

The Glenside Improvement Association is asking all Glensiders to "red-letter" and save December 13 for the annual Glenside Christmas Party and Dance. This gala event will be held at the Meadowbrook Country Club and Nancy Strickler of Sharon Court is chairman for the party.

FALL AND FOOTBALL season is an exciting time for young and old. Back home for a football weekend were Jim Knight and Wayne Hollister, rooters for the University of Oregon when they played Cal. Both are sophomores at Eugene and Jim is a reporter for the student newspaper and a member of the tennis squad.

Kay and Charles Knight and their son, Steve, also attended the Cal-Oregon game. Steve Harper was selling programs at the Cal stadium on Saturday and Nancy Waldman was one of the 500 majorettes, participating with 5000 high school bandsters in a very colorful half time program.

The Lafayette - Orinda Presbyterian neighborhood group met for a pot-luck supper at Marge and Harry Sommer's home. Also attending were Mary and John Colvin, Dot and Win Easton, Phyllis and Ed Youngman, Marion and Don Waldman, the Dyers, Deitricks, Beth Stegge and the Workmans and DuFosee's from the top of the hill.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC group of parents "turned back the clock" for Back to School Night at Acalanes on Monday evening—Glensiders rushing from class to class included the Nimmos, Andersons, Shurtleffs, Noacks, Brattens, Deke Scott, Irene English, Mabel Wilson, Nettie Hollister, Sommers, Woodnutts, and Harpers.

Ed and Muriel Lamphere were hostessing at the door. Larry Hollister and Dennis Money were participants on the Acalanes Freshman Football team when they beat Piedmont High Freshman 34 to 0. Stan Hollister is captain of the varsity team which lost to Piedmont. Many parents attend these football games — and they prove to be really exciting and well-played.

The Soph Hop was a "jam-packed" success, thanks to the chairman, Totty Spragen, social secretary of the sophomore class, who did a wonderful job of organizing. Carol English assisted her as bids chairman.

THE AMERICAN FIELD Service will collect "Change For Exchange" today. Linda Whicker and Nancy Noack will help in the Glenside area. Attending the AFS supper at Stanley School to introduce exchange students last Sunday evening were Jeff, Linda, Bobbie and Lawton Shurtleff. Ellen Roberts is chairman of the Acalanes American Field Service group.

Several very new babies in Glenside — Pat and Dick Crouse have welcomed a son, making a fourth child in a three daughter family. Shirley and John Swinson of Los Palos Circle also have a fourth child—a two week old baby daughter.

Ed and Helen Anderson, Kay and Charlie Knight and Ruby and Floyd Whicker were guests at an Oakland Traffic Club Dance at the Castlewood Country Club. Kay and Charlie also attended the National Traffic Association of America Convention, a six day round of activities at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

COMFORT SCOTT is an area chairman for the United Crusade Drive in Lafayette, and Eleanor Laney will be in charge of the Glenside area for the crusade.
